Threaten Moves To Halt Feud Of US Armed Services

Army, Air Force In Dispute Over How Nation Would Ready Defense In Nuclear Age; AF-Navy Tiff Stirs

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — A double crackdown was threatened today to halt a public feud among the U. S. armed services — a great dispute over how the nation should prepare to defend itself in the nuclear age.

After unnamed sources, evidently within the Army, passed documents to newsmen charging that present emphasis on air power could lead only to "national disaster," there were these quick developments:

1. Secretary of Defense Wilson called the public policy row "a most unfortunate business" and said he would look into it personally. Hinting at possible action, he said the armed forces "don't have to practice psychological warfare on each other."

2. Sen. Chavez (D-NM), chairman of a Senate Defense Appropriations Committee, warned that Congress might cut the funds of the armed forces unless "petty jealousies" are done away with. "They ought to quit being prima donnas and work for our common purpose, the defense of our country," he said.

The Army-Air Force differences are the latest to boil but there are hot disputes also between the Navy and Air Force. Recently the Air Force declared the Navy's big carriers could deliver only a "small" strategic punch. The Navy backed by President Eisenhower and Secretary Wilson, has pictured its aerial might as tremendous.

Sharply worded staff studies circulating in the Pentagon were quoted today in several newspapers, including The New York Times, New York Herald-Tribune and St. Paul Pioneer Press. Some represent the views of individual staff officers. some the settled official opinion of an armed service.

Adlai Claims Oregon Vote Edge On Estes

Carries Victory Into Stretch Drive For Demo Support

By The Associated Press

Adlai Stevenson carried the advantage of an Oregon write-in victory Saturday into his stretch drive against Sen. Estes Kefauver for support of Florida and California voters.

The names of both aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination will appear on ballots in Florida a week from Tuesday and in California a week later.

Results of Friday's Oregon voting gave Stevenson a commanding lead of 59 per cent over Kefauver's 41 per cent among voters who went to the trouble of writing in either name. On the Republican side, where only an "X" rather than a name was required, President Eisenhower polled far more voters than both combined. A substantial unsolicited write-in further strengthened Vice President Nixon's hopes for renomination.

The results also assured a November battle for senator between Republican Douglas McKay, who resigned as secretary of the interior to make the race, and Sen. Wayne Morse, the former Republican who now is running as a Democrat. McKay ran ahead of Phil Hitchcock, a former state senator, and Morse bested Woody Smith, a Hood River service station operator.

Returns from 1845 of the state's 2,519 polling places:
Eisenhower unopposed: 112,197
Nixon write-in: 27,090.
Kefauver 30,319, Stevenson 44,145.
Hitchcock 49,755, McKay 64,635.
Morse 93,256, Smith 19,281.

Catholic Church Fire Does $2,500 Damage Saturday

More than $2,500 damages resulted to the St. Joseph Catholic parsonage, 704 North Missouri, about 11:12 a. m. Saturday. The origin of the fire was undetermined by Fire Department officials.

The fire started in a front room and apparently had been smouldering for several hours before it was discovered.

When fire companies arrived on the scene a line of hose was quickly laid and firemen worked for more than an hour and a half to extinguish and clean it up. The fire spread to two other rooms, while intense heat and smoke filled the entire residence.

It was estimated the damage to the building would be over $1,500 while the damage to the contents would amount to around $1,000.

Rev. Fr. Charles T. Bricker, resides in the parsonage and serves the Church, and School.

Insurance is carried which will fully cover the losses.

Lake Of Ozarks Claims South Korean Student As Drowning Victim

LAKE OZARK, Mo., May 19—(AP)—A South Korean pre-med student studying in Missouri today became the first drowning victim of the season in Missouri's famed Lake of the Ozarks.

Jack Christian, 22, a fellow student, identified the victim as Chihang Pyun, 22, of Seoul, Korea. Christian, of rural Mexico, Mo., said Pyun had been in the United States about 18 months and was studying at Northeast Missouri State College at Kirksville.

Christian told Miller County coroner Dr. L. S. Humphreys that he and Pyun were swimming across a cove just above Bagnell dam, with the Korean in front. Christian said about halfway across Pyun began struggling and went under before anyone could reach him.

The body was recovered about 1½ hours later.

The coroner ruled the death accidental.

Observes 50th Anniversary—

Sedalia High School Class Of '06 Holds Golden Reunion

Smith-Cotton graduation Thursday means a great deal to many people, the young men and women who are graduating and to those men and women who graduated from the old Sedalia High School 50 years ago. The day will be marked with the reunion of the Class of 1906, the Golden Anniversary of when they completed their public school work.

More than forty persons have notified Walter H. Bohling, who has acted as general chairman, they expect to be present for the all-day activities. They are coming from Oklahoma, Florida, California, New Jersey, Arizona, and of course from all over Missouri. Although word has not been received definitely, it was indicated several others from out of the state hope to come and may be here.

The Class of 1906 graduated on Wednesday, May 30, with exercises being held at the old New Sedalia Theatre, Third and Massachuetts. At that time the class, which was considered the largest ever to be graduated from the Sedalia High School up to that time, received their diplomas from the late James T. Montgomery representing the Sedalia Public School Board.

Mr. Montgomery gave the graduation address and in it expressed the benefits of education and to use the knowledge which they obtained through their schooling.

The chorus was directed by Mrs. Harvey MacGugin, who was musical director of public schools.

The graduation exercises in those days had various students participating on the program. The top five in the class, and five other students, took part.

The top five were Bernadine Dickman, Cora Bell Lamm, Flora Norlin, Mabel DeWitt, and Nellie Yunker. The three chosen by the student body were John Ready, George Ware and Roy Williams, and the two chosen by the faculty were Esther Stratton and Elizabeth Letts.

One essay given then and which is still timely was "Education in Russia" given by Flora Norlin.

The New Sedalia Theatre was filled with relatives and friends for the ceremonies and to see the students who were grouped on the large stage, receive their diplomas.

Class Day was held on Sunday, May 27, at which time the Senior Class held a program in the auditorium of the Sedalia High School.

The top ten students and how they ranked were: 1. Bernadine Dickman; 2. Cora Lamm; 3. Flora Norlin; 4. Mabel DeWitt; 5. Nellie Yunker; 6. Christine Fischer; 7. Lucille Tanner; 8. Lee Williams; 9. Mary Christine Hutchinson; 10. Ruth Brown.

The reunion activities begin Thursday morning at the Bothwell

To Hold Open Air Services—

Salvation Army Week Will Be Observed by Local Unit

Local observance of National Salvation Army Week, which is May 20 through May 27, will be in the form of open air services, according to Maj. F. S. Hodgeman, and open air services will be held during the week in surrounding communities in this area.

An open air crusade of musical services has been planned for the future.

The Salvation Army has long symbolized the spiritual and humanitarian values which are an important part of American life, and has given untiring and devoted service to those unfortunate and needy. This service is both physical and spiritual.

Maj. Hodgeman points out that the Salvation Army is known for action. It fights on many fronts to rescue America's troubled, needy and lonely men, women and children. In Sedalia, as in thousands of American communities, Salvation Army representatives, dedicated to practical service in God's name, help those who come to them regardless of race, color, or creed. The Salvation Army provides food, furnishes food, helps in finding jobs, aids in disaster, aids unmarried mothers, aids service men, comforts prison inmates, helps in locating missing persons, gives counseling and guidance to families, guides young people, and conducts religious services.

All Salvation Army officers are ordained ministers of the gospel. The Salvation Army originated in London, England, when William Booth began holding meetings in tents, music halls, theatres and other places. It spread beyond London within a few years and adopted the name Salvation Army officially in 1880. That same year evangelists came to the United States and the organization quickly grew throughout the nation.

The Salvation Army center in Sedalia is at Fifth and Lamine, on the southwest corner.

Military Displays In State

Shows Of Strength Held At Missouri Installations On Armed Forces Day

By The Associated Press

The Armed Forces Saturday gave Missourians some examples of the striking might of the Army, Navy, Air Force and their reserve elements.

Thousands of spectators turned out at Ft. Leonard Wood, Whiteman Air Force Base near Knob Noster, the Grandview Air Force base and at St. Louis for special Armed Forces Day demonstrations.

Ft. Leonard Wood graduated its first class of volunteer reservists—those reserves who take 6 months of training.

Principal speaker for the occasion was Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), who told the graduates "We probably will have to maintain far greater forces than we would prefer for a great many years to come."

"Thanks to some grim and disillusioning experiences in the past few years," he said, "we know that our country must remain strong in its military arms year in and year out if we are to be secure in our own freedom and to wield that influence of a great power in the councils of the world which smaller free countries have a right to expect of us."

More than 20,000 persons turned out at Grandview's Central Air defense base for looks at a new supersonic fighter, the F-100C and the B-52 intercontinental bomber, both of which made their first public appearances in the area.

Guest speaker at Grandview was Vice Admiral Thomas S. Combs, Washington, deputy chief of naval operations. He was born at Lamar, Mo.

The Strategic Air Command's base at Whiteman put on a show which included mid-air refueling exhibitions by the flying tankers. Since Armed Forces Day also marks the first anniversary of the 340th Bombardment Wing at the base, the celebration at the base will continue through Sunday.

About 4,000 members of the armed forces marched in a parade in St. Louis. Troops in the line of march included those from Ft. Leonard Wood, Scott Air Force base and the 138th Infantry of the Missouri National Guard, and Army, Navy and Air Force reserve elements.

Anderson, of suburban Wellston, kicked at a revolver in the man's hand. Two shots were fired, one hitting him in the thigh. The holdup man fled.

Carpenters Hear Address By Phillips

Blair Talks On Highway Program, Labor At Convention

Sidney Phillips, Republican candidate for Congress from Missouri's Sixth district, told a meeting of the 18th annual State Carpenter's Council convention Saturday morning that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson is not a small farmer's secretary but is a secretary for the larger corporation farmer.

Phillips also told the group that he would work for a minimum old age assistance of $150 per month with federal participation if he was elected to Congress.

Lt. Governor James T. Blair, a candidate for governor, spoke to the group Saturday afternoon stating he would support labor. He also talked on the highway program. F. V. Heinkel, president of MFA, also spoke to the group Friday afternoon. In his speech, Heinkel stressed the need for labor and farmers to cooperate in a program to raise farm prices.

The convention, with fraternal delegates from 11 states, 250 delegates from 45 locals in the state, convened here Friday morning and will continue through Sunday morning.

Speakers on Saturday morning were Berry Cripes, director of Bureau Apprenticeship and Fred Doyle, field representative of the Bureau Apprenticeship and Stephen Millett, chairman of the Industrial Commission. On Saturday afternoon, L. L. Duncan, director of the Division of Industrial Inspection, opened the afternoon session with a talk followed by the address by Lt. Gov. Blair. Other speakers were Robert Welby, field representative of the Union Labor Life Insurance Co., and Frank Murphy, secretary of the Missouri State Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Addressing the convention this morning will be R. E. Roberts, general executive board member; John Pennell, commissioner of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, and Charles Cates, member of the Industrial Commission.

The convention will adjourn at noon.

See Revolutionary Switch In Foreign Aid Policy By US

Change Would Bring Reduction In Armed Forces Of Some Allies; Two-Point Reasoning For Cuts

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — A revolutionary shift in United States foreign aid policy is foreshadowed by studies now being made in key agencies of the Eisenhower administration under prodding from the White House.

The switch, if carried through as now indicated, will mean a reduction in the military forces of some allied countries, particularly on the frontiers of the free world in Asia.

Officials say their thinking tentatively indicates such reductions would be justified on two grounds:

First, the real security of all free world countries in the atomic age rests mostly on the protection of the United States nuclear striking power.

Second, the dangers of even small wars have been diminished by Russia's new policy of presenting a more friendly face to the non-Communist world.

The impulse behind the new look at foreign aid policy lies in large part, however, in the field of cost. There is evidence that Congress and the country are becoming increasingly reluctant to vote the funds necessary to do the job the administration thinks necessary. The program now before Congress had a rough time this week at the hands of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and the administration is being compelled to retreat from some of its positions.

For example, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have laid heavy emphasis on a need for new authority this year to commit the United States to long term foreign aid spending on specific projects. The House committee knocked out that provision and substituted a general statement of intent to carry on foreign aid which gives no real new power to the President. The administration has decided, this reporter was informed, not to make a further fight for the long-range provision in the House.

The problem of costs is simply defined. Eisenhower has stated that foreign aid spending should continue at about the same level—between four and five billion dollars—for a good many years.

Roscoe Rash Is Acquitted Of Robbery

Roscoe Rash was acquitted of first degree robbery charges Friday by a jury after two hours deliberation.

Rash was charged in connection with a robbery of Brown's Service Station on South Highway 65 on Dec. 11.

A lone bandit held up and robbed Lawrence Kramer, attendant at Brown's No. 3 service station on Sunday night Dec. 11. The man was driving a stolen 1949 Mercury sedan belonging to Charles Miller, Windsor.

According to Kramer the man obtained $55 that was in a billfold he handed over to the bandit.

Kramer was unable to give a good description of the man to the authorities at the time of the robbery other than he had on a dark shirt and cap and was armed with a double-barreled shotgun.

Jurors for the trial were: Mrs. Walker Boulware, J. W. Raines, Robert Welliver, Roy Marshall, C. E. Carroll, Bruce Claycomb, Mrs. William McCune, John J. Mais, Lee Dow, Roy Alexander, H. E. Rogers, and James F. Dill.

An interesting sidelight of the trial was the lack of one juror. When court opened it was found that the number of jurors present was one short of the number required for the lawyers to pick from.

A barber in a nearby shop was quickly called into court without having time to change from his barber's jacket to his street shirt. Thus he sat in the jury box attired in his white jacket.

Sedalia's Dairy Day Festivities Will Feature Parade Saturday

One of the big features of the Dairy Day Festival Day, Saturday, June 2, will be a parade starting at 1 p.m. The parade will form on West Main and will go down Main to Ohio and south on Ohio to Seventh where it will disband.

According to Oscar DeWolf, general chairman, everything is shaping up fine and all his chairmen are at work getting their part of the parade lined up. Ed Kehde is in charge of commercial floats and has a number of good entries. Mrs. J. F. Schumacher is in charge of the parade judges and promises to have judges on hand Dairy Day. Guy Peabody is in charge of the bands. Bands always make a parade and there is no better person anywhere in securing a lot of bands for any occasion than Peabody, so there should be plenty of music, marching feet, bright uniforms and pretty majorettes.

Paul Read is in charge of the youth floats and several organizations of young people have already entered. Read expects quite a lot more as the youngsters are usually eager to compete in parades and always come up with clever floats.

Of course, every parade needs the color the saddle clubs give and Kennie Miller is arranging to have costumed riders.

Another member of the parade committee is Rich Johnson, who doesn't have any particular job but is helping with the entire parade.

There is nothing like beautiful girls to add that real charm to a parade and this parade will have them, too. The Dairy Day queen candidates will be riding in grand style and the loveliest of them all will be chosen by judges to reign over the festival.

Girls, bands, horses, floats, what more could anyone ask for a good parade except a nice bright warm day, with plenty of milk to drink. This should be a festival of fun for everybody in the Sedalia area with window displays, demonstrations, a big ice cream social and many other attractions. Saturday, June 2, everybody should mark it on their calendar.

A TIRED LITTLE BOY—Larry Schneider, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Schneider, sits on the lap of his father shortly after being returned home Friday evening. The child was noted to be gone from the home shortly after 5 o'clock and it was 8:10 p.m. when Mr. and Mrs. John Sublette found the child about a quarter of a mile from their home and more than a mile from the Schneider residence. He suffered no more than a few bruises received when he stumbled and fell several times, with briar scratches on his arms, legs, and face as he wandered through brush. More than 20 farmers in the area joined together to search for him. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Type of Tree Determines Shade Area

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

Every state in the Union, plus the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, observes an Arbor Day sometime during the year. In Florida, the day set aside is the third Friday in January, in Arkansas the first Saturday in December. Many of the northern and western states observe the last Friday in April. The first approach to Arbor Day in America occurred in 1828 when President John Quincy Adams became alarmed over the diminishing supply of live oak timber and launched a forest project designed to provide for the future live oak needs of the U. S. Navy.

Live oak was the finest wood for the framework of ships. Unfortunately, the undertaking was short-lived. President Adams was succeeded by Andrew Jackson and the incoming administration made short work of the planting by terminating it in 1831.

President Adams, in his thinking, was far ahead of his time. However, thanks to the untiring efforts of J. Sterling Morton, Arbor Day was instituted in Nebraska in 1872 as a day for planting trees, "both for shade and for wood."

President Cleveland helped the cause in 1893 by appointing Morton secretary of agriculture. Since that time states have set aside a day or two each year for the observance of Arbor Day.

But no matter what state you live in, or when Arbor Day is observed, the message should ring clear. Plant trees. Plant the best, for trees are an investment which, if properly taken, will return countless dividends in beauty and shade.

Shade area will be determined by the type and height of tree.

The National Arborists Association offers this guide.

The trend in shade trees is to diversify the species, mixing little trees with big. Avoid fast-growing species (such as poplar, silver maple, sycamore, Chinese elm, and catalpa). It is amazing how tall an oak will grow in a few years.

Shun brittle trees that break during a hurricane. Don't plant trees that clutter lawns with fruit, flowers and sloughed-off bark. Beware of trees whose root systems clog drain pipes. Grass will do poorly beneath dense shade trees with shallow roots which compete with turf.

Different trees have different uses, advises Dr. Rush P. Marshall, director of the F. A. Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories in Stamford, Conn. For dense shade choose a sugar maple, white oak, little leaf linden, beech, American ash or horse chestnut.

For medium shade: pin oak, red oak, red maple, white ash, American linden, sweet or sour gum, London plane. For light, filtered shade: thornless honey locust, gingko, English oak or hackberry.

Trees should also be selected for height, trees that reach 50 feet or more at maturity include: white, red and scarlet oak, sugar maple and tuliptree.

Medium sized trees (up to 50 feet): red maple, pin oak, sweet and sour gum, yellowwood, gingko, white ash, London plane, linden. Small trees (to 30 feet): dogwood, magnolia, native birches, Washington hawthorn, sorrel and flowering crabapple.

Make sure the tree you select is tolerant to your region.

BODY by FISHER

The meaningful emblem of Body by Fisher

When you see "sterling" on silver you know what it means—solid silver, all the way through.

And when you see the medallion "Body by Fisher" on an automobile it means much the same thing—quality all the way through, in things unseen as well as on the visible, gleaming surface.

The significance of this emblem cannot be tested on the showroom floor. Its meaning was not built up in a day but only after long years in which owners learned that "Body by Fisher" was a veritable symbol of solid, enduring satisfaction.

Only one who has owned a Chevrolet for several years can fully know the deep sense of satisfaction this emblem pledges. It is the maker's warranty of an inner soundness that your eye or your touch cannot test. And only Chevrolet in the low-price field is entitled to wear the small, proud plaque that proclaims "Body by Fisher."

Drive with care . . . EVERYWHERE!

Advertising Man Attends KC Workshop

Neville Johnson, with the advertising department of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital, has just returned from an intensive three-day newspaper advertising workshop held in Kansas City, held under the auspices of the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Along with newspaper salesmen from cities in Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Arkansas, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Hawaii, he learned about and tested the latest techniques and selling tools developed for successful retail advertising. Benefits of these sales training sessions will be discussed with other members of The Democrat-Capital advertising staff and ultimately brought to the attention of Sedalia merchants.

The primary purpose of the workshops is to acquaint advertising salesmen with the current problems and needs of the retail advertiser, and how to work with these retailers to make newspapers, which receive the major portion of their advertising dollar, an even more effective selling tool.

A major portion of the training was devoted to learning how to help a merchant analyze his advertising and determine ways to make it more productive and to build a sound advertising plan that takes full advantage of every selling opportunity, month by month, department by department.

Sound advertising procedures, based on planning and good timing were explored thoroughly at each of the "shirt-sleeve" sessions by use of demonstrations, group discussions and the study of actual case histories.

A feature of the demonstrations was the Bureau's Fifth Annual Time Table of Retail Opportunities with Market Target Dial. The book contains seasonal sales patterns for 18 store types and over 50 merchandise categories and a complete merchandising event calendar for 1956.

The Market Target Dial, featured in the Time Table is a movable wheel that can be turned to show monthly per-family expenditures and total local market potential based on U.S. Census and Department of Commerce figures, in ten types of stores and merchandise.

The Bureau's workshop program, now in its third year has helped train salesmen from 311 newspapers throughout the U.S., Alaska, Hawaii and Canada. The 1956 program has already held sessions in Cleveland and Berkeley, Calif., in March and will hold its final session in Princeton, N.J., May 23-26.

Newspapers represented in Kansas City were: Missouri — Cape Girardeau Southeast Missourian, Carthage Press, Joplin Globe & News Herald, St. Joseph News Press Gazette, St. Louis Post Dispatch, Sedalia Democrat-Capital; Kansas—Norton Telegram, Topeka Capital & Journal, Wellington Daily News, Pratt Tribune; Illinois—Decatur Herald & Review, Kewanee Star Courier, LaSalle News Tribune; and the Carroll [illegible] Times Herald, Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer and News, Grand Forks (N.D.) Herald, Honolulu (Hawaii) Star Bulletin, Jackson (Miss.) Clarion Ledger, Minneapolis (Minn.) Star & Tribune, Oklahoma City (Okla.) Publishing Co., Pine Bluff (Ark.) Commercial, Pittsburgh (Pa.) Press.

SALES ANALYSIS—Neville Johnson, left, of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital assumes the role of a retailer as a fellow workshopper, Howard Hintz (standing) of the Kewanee, Ill., Star Courier, presents a sales and advertising analysis with reccomendations he has just prepared for a retail store. Each man has the opportunity to present a store's analysis while his newspaper colleagues chip in with constructive criticism, taking the merchant's point of view. Also seated at the table are Lou Lesniak, second from left, of the LaSalle, Ill., News Tribune Bob Pritchard, right, of the Carthage Press.

Boy, 3, Found After Stray From Home

Search Produces Larry Schneider Friday Evening

Nearly three hours of worry was experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Schneider, of Route 1, Sedalia, Friday night when their three-year-old son Larry was reported lost. The child was found shortly after 8 p.m. by Mr. and Mrs. John Sublette, approximately a mile from the Schneider residence.

It was shortly before 5:30 when Mrs. Schneider missed her son. She searched the outbuilding thinking he might have gone in one of them and fallen asleep, she looked through the home, under the beds, in closets, and then in the field nearby. No Larry.

Deputy Sheriffs To Scene

When she and her husband could find no trace of him they called the County Jail and Deputies George Brown and Ed George made a hurried trip to the Schneider residence. Soon neighboring farmers began to arrive and the search started.

Larry's little dog came to the house from the south and the search was then centered in that direction. A check of the creek was made and no evidence found there. Bushes were looked under, ditches checked and still no Larry.

Mr. and Mrs. Sublette who resided on the Frank Smasal farm, known as the old M. J. Donahoe farm, were called. They reported they would start north through the field and Mr. Sublette drove his pickup truck as far down as he could and got out. It was about a quarter of a mile from the Sublette farm. As they got out to start their trek through the timber, in the lights appeared little Larry crying "Mama, Mama." Mr. Sublette went to the boy and picked him up and they drove out to the road and over to the Schneider home.

Calm After Reunion

Little Larry never whimpered once, he was calm, and his alertness was displayed by action of starting out to go to the lights of the car. After he was found he never said a word, never cried a tear, just sat on his grandmother's lap and his father's lap.

Outside of being scratched several places on his arms and face from wandering through the briar bushes, stumbling and falling several times causing slight bruises on his forehead, and a series of insect bites on his face, he was in tip-top condition.

During the time, neighbors flocked to the home, and as it got later several brought food, feeling the search might last a long time and to feed the men looking for the lad.

After getting his face and hands washed, Larry took to slowly eating a sandwich and a big piece of cake brought by the neighbors. After his fill he was given a bath, and a tired little boy was put to bed.

Livestock and Dairy Judging Training Days

In an endeavor to give the 4-H members enrolled in dairy and meat animal projects a little more training in judging we have set up a day's training session for each group. This training session is also for leaders so that they can follow up this meeting and polish up their members' judging at project meetings. With the strong animal projects we have in the county there is no reason but what we should have some strong judging teams.

The dairy judging meeting will be held Wednesday, May 23, starting at the Earl Wood farm 1½ miles east of Beaman. I realize that some 4-H members will still be in school but we hope that they might make the session in the afternoon. At the Wood's farm we shall discuss judging and giving reasons and judge a class of heifers. We shall eat our sack lunch near there and move to Lee Dow's farm 1 mile west of Georgetown to start the afternoon session.

The livestock session will be held at the Walter Nicholson, Leonard DeBord and Charles Arnold farms approximately three miles west of Hughesville. On these farms we shall discuss judging and giving reasons and we shall judge classes of beef, swine and sheep and discuss them.

Both of these meetings will start promptly at 10 a.m. and run till around 3:30. Later in the year similar classes will be set up and our county judging teams will be chosen from this later meeting. This meeting is set up to aid you later in the year and we hope you will take advantage of it.

Dairy Festival Day Entries

Entries for the queen contest and floats have been rather slow about coming in and we hope you haven't overlooked them. Oscar DeWolf, chairman of the float committee, has offered clarification on the floats. Three major cash prizes are being offered—first gets $25, second $15, third $10 and all other floats get $5 to cover some of the cost of the float. Also we have an abundance of tickets for the ice cream social available at the extension office and should you need any we can fulfill your demand.

4-H Camp at Knob Noster

Monday morning, May 21, the extension office will start taking deposits for the 4-H Camp at Knob Noster being held Aug. 7-10. This is on a "first come, first served" basis and we have refused deposits offered to us already so that all clubs might have an equal chance. One leader or member from your club can collect the deposits and bring them in for your club if they are sure that they bring along all the names of members that go with the deposits.

Memorial Day Services

Memorial Day services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at High Point Cemetery, Hughesville, with the Rev. E. W. Bartley to be the speaker. The secretary is John A. Fowler.

Radiation Safety Keeps Pace

Exaggerated fear of the possibility of radiation damage and injuries from "radiation fall-out" has developed during the past few years since the Atomic Age arrived.

Occasionally one hears remarks about the possible danger about having x-ray films made by the medical or dental profession. Some have been unnecessarily concerned about having the free chest x-ray pictures taken periodically when the machine is brought to Sedalia by the Pettis County Tuberculosis Society.

Being subject to radiological treatment is very often necessary in modern medical exploratory methods. Unnecessary fears of radiation damage have been somewhat dissipated by top scientists on medical applications of x-rays and other radiation. They point out that in the hands of radiologists, those physicians who specialize in the use of x-rays and other radiation for diagnosis—which are actually nuclear emanations and hence radioactive—are safe.

Dr. Wendell G. Scott, associate professor of clinical radiology, Washington University of St. Louis School of Medicine, is authority for the statement: "... radiation in excess is a hazard, but there are instruments we use to measure the quantity of radiation that is given to a patient or is being scattered about in an area, so that we can put in the necessary protective barriers and reduce exposure to a very safe level."

Dr. Lauriston S. Taylor, chief of atomic and radiation physics, National Bureau of Standards, has this to say: "... with the growth of our atomic energy program in the past 15 years, it is still regarded among safety experts as one of the safest industries in terms of industrial hazards of almost any industry of which we know."

Safeguards against x-rays and radiation are of prime concern to those who handle it. This awareness of danger and the methods to prevent it are being given more emphasis in this atomic age than that given the machine age in the last century.

Many now living can recall the human slaughter and injuries in early day factories and mines before obvious safeguards were invented or made mandatory by law. This was slow in coming.

There's not a business or factory today which does not stress the importance of safety measures, and provide protective devices to prevent accidents.

One thing, however, can be said for protection against radiation. It has developed hand in hand with x-ray itself—discovered 60 years ago—and latterly with the machinery and application of atomic energy.

That's more than can be said for other mechanical inventions in earlier days of development.

Next time you have a chance to get your chest x-rayed free or otherwise don't be so much concerned about the radiation as what may be the matter with your lungs.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Magic Touch With Real Estate Profits

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Congressman Victor Wickersham, the Oklahoma Democrat who complains that a congressman's salary is too low to live on, continues to amaze both his colleagues and Washington realtors by the way he's able to roll up profits. Not only does he seem to have an uncanny instinct for knowing in advance where the government is going to place new buildings, but he has a knack for acquiring real estate for next to nothing.

Take, for instance, his acquisition of 882.5 acres of land adjacent to the Everglades National Park in southern Florida. It didn't cost him a single, solitary cent.

Here, according to the congressman's own explanation, is how he managed this real estate legerdemain.

Wickersham heard that the late D. A. McDougal, once of Sapulpa, Okla., (home town of Mrs. Tom Dewey), had left 17,650 acres near the Everglades National Park when he died. So Wickersham made a deal with the widow and two McDougal daughters to take an option to purchase for $10 an acre, or a total of $176,500. This was a bargain, inasmuch as oil had been found in and around that area.

The astute congressman, who humbly says he was "reared on a cotton, wheat, and dairy farm" near Magnum, Okla., then scared up some other realtors to whom he sold 90 per cent of the land for 100 per cent of what it cost him. In return, he kept 5 per cent or 882.5 acres as his fee.

Those who came in on the deal were Gene Olmi, Dr. W. T. Burch, and Tim McCue, all of Alexandria, Va.; Edgar F. Burch of Fort Lauderdale; and Allan Bruzee of Washington. In other words, they put up the money, Wickersham got a nice chunk of land free.

Note—Wickersham also acquired 376 acres on the Potomac River which the Geological Survey now covets; also bought eight acres near Colorado Springs, where the Air Force Academy is being located; negotiated for land in Virginia near the future Central Intelligence Agency building; and owns two tracts of land in western Maryland between the proposed Geological Survey site and the new Atomic Energy Commission building.

Cotton Gyrations

The changeableness of Ezra Benson in wanting to sell his cotton surplus, then not selling it, then promising to sell it, then withdrawing it, has Congressman Jamie Whitten of Mississippi really sore.

"I seem wrought up and I am," he said frankly to Benson's assistant secretary, M. L. McLain, at a special Appropriations Subcommittee meeting called after Congress learned that Benson had refused to sell 628,000 bales of cotton after receiving foreign offers for it which Benson considered too low.

"Your failure to sell," the congressman pointed out, "has forced drastic slashes in cotton acreage. As a result 55,000 families have been forced off their farms. Meanwhile, foreign countries are expanding their acreage at our expense."

Congressman Whitten had in mind the following chapter of reversals in the variegated, unpredictable cotton policy of the Eisenhower administration:

1. Last August, Secretary Benson wanted to sell U.S. cotton surplus abroad at competitive world prices, but Secretary of State Dulles said no. He argued, among other things, that it would alienate Egypt.

2. Egypt bartered her cotton for Communist arms, and, regardless of Dulles' butter-up-Egypt policy, proceeded to blast the United States daily over the Cairo radio.

3. On. Feb. 28, Benson announced that U.S. surplus cotton would be sold abroad. Critics claimed this was done in order to win over two Mississippi votes, Eastland and Stennis, against the Democratic farm bill.

4. Benson's Commodity Credit Corporation threw his entire surplus of 6,700,000 bales on the world market. But, after getting bids for 628,000 bales, he withdrew most of it and sold only 10,000 bales.

This was what made the Mississippi congressman really sore. Earlier, in January, Benson had sold 1,000,000 bales in small lots, and sold it successfully.

Dumping Cotton

"We sell 1,000,000 bales and it moves in a short time," exclaimed Whitten. "But what do you do? You change your regulations and wait only two months before you offer more and then you offer the whole lot, placing a floor on what bids you will accept!"

At this point McLain jumped to the defense of the Commodity Credit Corporation.

"I think you would have been the first to criticize us if we had accepted all the bids under any type of purchase like this," protested the agriculture official. "We have people who would like to even steal if they could. That is only natural and good business."

Whitten agreed that extremely low bids have to be rejected in order to avoid injury to foreign cotton growers. But, he insisted, the CCC had definitely encouraged low bids by throwing its entire stock of 6,700,000 bales on the market. Instead, the Mississippi Democrat declared, the CCC should offer its cotton a little bit at a time.

"You are concerned about the CCC," said Whitten. "So am I. But you are missing a broader point. If you channel all the United States cotton into the CCC and have to keep sitting on it, and hold it paying storage, while we lose our foreign markets forever, you have not really protected it or the American taxpayer either."

"I agree with you," nodded McLain.

He promised Whitten there would be no let-up in efforts to dispose of the surplus as previously promised by Benson.

Guest Editorial—

WARRENSBURG STAR-JOURNAL: Varmint Rifle Might Help. The meaning of the word "Litterbug" is now being accepted as a new word and included in dictionaries, we're informed. It would be difficult, Conservation Agent Jack Frost points out, to beat the definition as prepared by the Arizona Game and Fish Commission. It says:

"A Litterbug is a common two-legged animal which travels about the countryside, often at high speeds, and attempts to distribute paper cups and napkins, cans, boxes and other quaint forms of decoration evenly and thoroughly on all bushes, trees, rocks and other points of natural scenery.

"One highly developed form of litterbug contaminates streams by using them as final resting places for bottles, garbage and other assorted debris. The litterbug is too large to be disposed of by flit gun or flyswatter and as yet no effective form of control has been devised.

"While a varmint rifle would probably be efficient, this method usually is frowned upon by law enforcement agencies since litterbugs are likely to be found in heavily populated campgrounds and recreation areas also used by people."

Averell's On Warpath

On his most recent swing through the West, New York's Gov. Averell Harriman dropped the pose that he is an "inactive" candidate for the presidency and became an avowed entry for the Democratic nomination.

Harriman made the switch in a thoroughly explicit statement. But even if he hadn't the change in his self-defined status would have been apparent.

For in Montana he allowed himself to be initiated as a member of the Blackfeet Indian tribe, and that is a sure tip-off. You can do a lot of things and hold the "inactive" pose. But when you start trading monosyllables with Indians, or taking tribal membership, the jig is up. That's presidential stuff and everybody knows it.

As Sedalia Sees It—

Policy of Deterrence Needs Support of B-52 Bombers

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The grim intelligence of the approaching ascendency of Russian long-range air power is producing a schizoid reaction here: nonchalance and vague apprehension.

If it weren't for the calming voice of President Eisenhower, this Capital would be afflicted with the screaming meamies. But since he says all is okay, everyone tries to act accordingly.

Thus the House bellowed down a proposal to provide an additional billion for construction of more B-52's. The B-52 is our long range bomber. It's the plane that could carry the pay load to any part of Russia and, with luck, get back.

General Le May, cigar chomping boss of the Strategic Air Command, has warned the Senate that in less than two years we'll have the second best Air Force unless production goals are raised now. Already, Le May says, the Russian long-range air arm overmatches ours.

This warning has had impact. Not enough to shatter the complacency that enables Congress to shout down more dollars for SAC. But enough so that even the shouters confess their apprehension.

For years responsible officials of the Administration have in effect encouraged the widespread belief that the underpinning of our deterrent policy was the Sunday atomic punch. Russia would have to hold back because the Kremlin knew we could rewrite the map with one blast.

Now what's to be said for this policy of deterrence when it's the enemy who had the long-range Sunday punch? Boiled down, that's what Le May is saying. In two years, Russia will have more long range wallop than we will.

As the President has pointed out, the geographic factor works for us. We have many bases about the periphery of the Communist bloc. Our medium range bombers can operate from these bases.

But they are vulnerable. They are threatened by Russian diplomacy. They are within range of Russian air power. They probably could be attacked by guided missiles launched from Soviet territory.

The more dependent we are on our overseas bases, the more we will have to pay for them. Host nations will be able to raise the ante as the importance of the bases to us increases.

Another billion now for additional B-52's just might be a real economy investment.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Important Protection Given By Accreditation Program

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Many safeguards for health exist for the fortunate residents of the United States and Canada. Some are the result of activities of local or national governmental agencies such as the various public health services or the Food and Drug Administration. Unlike the situation in most other countries, however, private or nongovernmental agencies play a big part in these two nations in maintaining and improving the health of the people.

Among these voluntary agencies is the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The members of this commission are made up of five leading voluntary health organizations: The American College of Physicians, The Canadian Medical Association, The American College of Surgeons, The American Hospital Association, and the American Medical Association.

In order to visit the some 6,000 hospitals in Canada and the United States eligible for accreditation, the commission maintains a staff of 20 physicians in the field.

What is the purpose of this extensive and expensive program? It is solely to make sure that the patient who enters an accredited hospital will receive the best and safest medical and hospital care which can be provided today.

The requirements are rigid. Any hospital with over 25 beds is eligible but this does not mean automatic accreditation. Before accreditation is granted the hospital must supply information concerning the following: Physical plant (including fire protection), the adequacy of its department for keeping patient records, information concerning the staffing and operation of the nursing and dietary departments, the hospital pharmacy and drug control, the pathology department, the X-ray department, and several other modern and necessary ingredients for the provision of hospital care.

Last but not least, the hospital provides information concerning the qualifications of the medical men serving on its staff. This is so the hospitalized patient will not only have confidence in what the hospital does itself but also in the quality of medical care which he receives there.

Of the 4,000 hospitals in the United States and Canada which have applied for accreditation, more than eight out of 10 have passed the requirements and the list is growing. As of April 2, 1956, 3,102 hospitals have been fully accredited and 528 provisionally accredited.

Some hospitals not on the list have not failed to pass the examination but are not there because they have not yet supplied the information needed or been visited by the inspectors. One of the finest features of the whole program is that it encourages those hospitals which cannot qualify to improve their standards to the point to which they, too, can be accredited.

The hospital accreditation program is an important protection for all of us. It is a tribute to the five medical organizations taking part in this program that they are doing this job in the public interest at the cost of some half million dollars a year and without expense to the taxpayer.

The Light

I sat in a church that was strange to me,
And stared at the chancel wall,
At the stained glass window that I could see,
Lighted, perhaps, from a hall;
The colors were bright and the picture plain
Of the Shepherd with His sheep,
I watched, them somehow my thoughts seemed to wane,
And my mind went slowly to sleep;
Ah, yes, the Shepherd in color there
Seemed vivid and very real,
I had meditated and said a prayer,
And peace in my soul did I feel
But now I stared with a far away mind
At the window before me that day,
At the shepherd who searched 'till he could find
The lamb that had gone astray;
True enough, I was conscious of what it meant,
Of the promise that He had made,
But I sat there in that church content
And my thoughts from Him had strayed;
Then all of a sudden the window was dark,
The light from the hall went out,
And there died within me the flowing spark,
My heart filled with fear and doubt;
I felt what a terrible thing it would be
If the light which guides us on,
Left us in darkness and we could not see,
Like the light in the window, now gone;
What if our faith should be snatched away
And we had no light to guide us?
What, when in helplessness we pray
We could not feel Him beside us?
What if that light should disappear
Suddenly without warning,
Leaving us floundering desperately here
Without the promise of morning;
Even now at the window I seemed to stare
And my heart was cold and still,
If the light of hope went out—then where?
O, God, that it never will.

Democrat Pick-Ups

Odds and Ends By News Staff

THE WOMAN went out to get the family car which is always parked at the side of the house or maybe in front, but the car wasn't there.

Her husband belongs to a car pool and about every four or five weeks he drives his car to work for a week and the remainder of the time leaves it at home for her. But this time he must have taken it with him, and her blood pressure went up. Why did he take his car this week? she fumed. Last week was his time to take the car, and if he was going to take it why couldn't he have said something about it? Here she was all ready to go to town and no car!

All day long she boiled about the car and how her husband had treated her.

When he came home that night she was all ready for him. She really let him have a piece of her mind.

"But," explained the husband, "I didn't take the car to work today."

That was a real blow. "Then," she asked excitedly, "where is the car?"

"In the garage," replied the man calmly.

Now, if thinking the car was missing was a shock, this was a greater one. She had looked every place for that car — except — of course, where she never expected to find it—in the garage. Now who would ever have thought of looking in a garage for a car? Well, certainly not the wife of a man who never put his there. But that one little time of doing what he felt maybe should be done all the time got him in trouble—but it probably saved him money too, because after all, his wife didn't get to town.—H.L.

THINGS HAVE certainly gone to the dogs in one family. The man of the house was very tired so he went to bed early, while his wife puttered around the house doing things she thought should be done. When she finally got around to going to bed, she went in the bedroom to find her husband and their two big dogs all in the bed fast asleep.

Attempting to get the dogs out of there so she could go to bed she found resentment from one of the pups, he growled, snarled, showed his teeth and in a very unpleasant way tried to tell her to get out of there and leave them alone. But the woman was determined to have her share of the bed so she finally got her husband awake and he took the dogs outside where she felt they belonged in the first place.—H.L.

VISITING OUT on a farm was quite an experience for the small boy who was fascinated with the horns of a cow.

"What are those things?" he asked his father. "Whiskers?"

"No," his father told him, "those are horns."

Well, the only kind of horns the youngster knew anything about were car horns that made a noise so that was what he thought of when, with shining eyes, he asked the next question: "Oh, can I beep 'em?"—H.L.

Ruth Millett Says—

Tired of Asking, "What's Thawing for Dinner, Dear?"

A man who reads this column, obviously weary of being served food that comes from the grocer's either ready for the table or needing only to be mixed with a little water and popped into the oven, has come up with a suggestion.

He thinks somebody ought to write a cookbook called the "Do-It-Yourself Cookbook." In it he wants included no new ways of using ready mixes and other such short cuts. Instead, he wants just good, old-fashioned recipes that set a cook to beating eggs, measuring flour and peeling apples.

Says he, "The way most wives have been presenting their husbands with do-it-yourself fix-it and paint-it books I'm sure the poor men would see that the 'do-it-yourself cookbook' would be a best seller.

"Home cooked foods are cheaper and better than anything mass-mixed and who has more time to work on them than the modern housewife with all the gadgets in her kitchen?"

How about it men? Are you really getting fed up with biscuits that come out of a tube instead of a floured board? With cookies that are merely sliced and baked instead of being stirred up in a mixing bowl? With cakes that come out of a box, covered with icing that comes out of a can?

Do you really want to go back to the days of "what's cooking for dinner?" instead of "what's thawing?"

If so drop a line to this column. But if you are perfectly satisfied with today's tendency toward quick cooking because you'd rather have your wife out of the kitchen than in it, let's hear your point of view, too.

A later column will reveal whether the majority of husbands who write in are in favor of "do-it-yourself" cooking or "heat-and-serve."

The Smith-Cotton High School Recognition Assembly was held Friday morning, when numerous students received recognition for their achievements and activities the past year. Several students also received recognition and awards from various honor and civic organizations.

Student Council President James Swafford opened the ceremonies, leading the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the School Pledge. After this he turned the assembly over to Forrest Drake, high school principal, who introduced representatives of the various groups who were to make presentations.

Harry Brougher, representing the Board of Education, presented the board's citations to the following students for their field of achievement: Marcia Ann Rissler, national merit scholarship; Betty Ann Halsey, national merit scholarship; Charles Van Dyne, Jr., football, basketball and track; Norris Eugene Kelley, football and track; Robert William Austin, Jr., football; Rudd Van Dyne, football and basketball; Donald Lee Barbour, football; Robert T. Noland, football; Walter Allen Kennon, basketball; Judith Ann Case, music; and Richard L. Shoemaker, music.

Only one could win the scholarship bond, but a boy and girl were awarded the leadership awards. Marcia Rissler was chosen for both honors and received two bonds while Dick Shoemaker was chosen for the boys' leadership. Johnson also introduced Robert Moore, Exalted Ruler of the Elks, which sponsored these awards.

Mrs. Harry Brougher, representing the D.A.R., presented that organization's award to Marcia Rissler.

D. Kelly Scruton, representing the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association, made the presentation of certificates to three of the Smith-Cotton athletes honored by that association: to Norris Kelley, as a unanimous selection of the First All-State Football team; to Rudd Van Dyne, who placed on the Second All-State Football team; and to Charles "Van" Van Dyne who was a unanimous selection for the First All-State Basketball team.

John B. Ellison, representing the Civic Club Council, presented to each member of the 1955-56 basketball team, which won the Central Missouri Conference championship and several tournaments, gold basketballs. These balls are to be appropriately engraved and returned to the boys.

Jack Delph, representing the "S" Club on behalf of John Harvey, Jr., the president, who was unable to be present because of illness, made the presentations. First, on behalf of the "S" Club, he presented gold track shoes to the members of the 1955 CMC championship track squad, 11 of whom graduate this year. They are: Roy Dietzman, Carroll Griswold, Bill Wingfield, Rudd Van Dyne, Tom Noland, Bob Spraggins, Walter Kennon, Norris Kelley, Bob Austin, Richard Parkhurst and Charles "Van" Van Dyne. Coach Norman James accepted the others to be presented to the members of the team who graduated in 1955.

To the most outstanding senior girl, Nancy Oswald, and the most outstanding senior boy, Don Barbour, he presented savings bonds of $25 each. The most outstanding senior in vocal music, Dick Shoemaker; most outstanding senior in instrumental music, Judy Case; athlete with highest grades, Jimmy Swafford; and most outstanding senior in athletics, Charles "Van" Van Dyne, were presented medallions.

Miss Margaret Bohon, representing the American Business Women's Association, presented a check for $50 to Rosalie Moore, an outstanding senior girl, to be used in her college education, an education project of the association.

Drake, at the closing of the ceremonies, presented the National Merit Scholarship Certificates to Marcia Rissler and Betty Ann Halsey. He also presented a gold medallion to James Swafford for his activities as president of the Senior Student Council.

Drake also called off the list of names of students who had perfect attendance in school during the school year of 1955-56 and paid tribute to them.

He also presented to Marcia Rissler and Bob Mason a certificate from the Danforth Foundation and a booklet "I Dare You" from the foundation. This presentation was for Youth Leadership.

Civic Club Council Recognizing Airmen

The Sedalia Civic Club Council met Friday noon and decided to continue its program whereby the outstanding Whiteman Air Force Base airmen of the month are honored by the city's civic organization. The men are invited to attend the organizations' dinner meetings and programs and are presented certificates for their achievement. The most of the certificates is divided among the clubs.

James Van Wagner, Jr., who has been guiding the program, said that the recognition has proved popular with the air base personnel and that there is a standing request for its continuance. John Ellison, president of the Civic Club Council, said that the miniature gold basketballs purchased by the clubs for the outstanding basketball players at Smith-Cotton High School had been presented to the players at the high school's recognition assembly Friday morning.

Doe Kidnaps Calf

MONEY CREEK, Minn. (AP) — Kermit Hanson, searching his pasture for a newborn calf which had failed to come to the farmyard with its mother, found the calf had been kidnaped — or adopted — by a doe.

The deer refused to leave the calf, and drove off Hanson's dog. The farmer chased the deer away and took the calf to the barn for safe keeping.

RECEIVES KINDERGARTEN DONATION—Mrs. Lily E. Thomas, on the left, receives a check for $295.55 for the Pettis County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Society from Mrs. Don Lamm, Jr., and Mrs. M. E. Rhoads, Jr. The money is proceeds from an ice cream social given by the K-JO Kindergarten.

K-Jo Kindergarten Conducts Muscular Dystrophy Social

Pettis County has only one youngster with muscular dystrophy, Bobby Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wolf, 1709 South Summit, but his life, like the lives of the many other muscular dystrophy patients, depends on research on the disease. It takes a great deal of money for such research from the cooperation of people everywhere, but it will be worth every penny if the cause and cure can be found.

Friday evening the children of K-Jo Kindergarten, 16th and Beacon, of which Mrs. M. E. Rhoades, Jr., and Mrs. Donald Lamm, Jr., are owners and teachers, had an ice cream social and 1500 tickets were sold by the children, their parents and friends. The sum of $295.55 was realized and turned over to the Pettis County Chapter, Muscular Dystrophy Association of America. All but 26 per cent of this will go to the national organization for that important research. The 25 per cent will be kept here to help Bobby Wolf.

The money, however, cannot be spent for things to amuse or entertain Bobby, it must be spent for his needs, at the Home for Crippled Children in Marshall. But there is something that Bobby wants very much to pass his long hours. He likes to sing and play the guitar and would like to have a recording machine to play back his songs to him on the bad days that he doesn't feel like singing. He would like to record some of the funny things the other children say for those dark days too, and he gets excited when the doctor pays him a visit. He would like to be able to play back the recordings of what the doctor really says to him and about him. Bobby thinks a recording machine would add much to his happiness.

But even though the proceeds from the ice cream social cannot buy him a recording machine Bobby is pleased that the children of the kindergarten are thinking of him and trying to help. He is pleased that so many people went to the social because cars lined the streets for blocks. Bobby still has faith. He believes the research will bring the answer in time for him.

LIE DETECTOR IN ACTION—Shown above is Trooper Carroll S. Price, Missouri State Highway Patrol, Jefferson City, who is demonstrating the use of the polygraph. Trooper Price, a specialist in the use of the polygraph, which is more commonly known as the lie-detector, is assigned to the laboratory of the Highway Patrol. He will appear before the Rotary Club Monday and will present the subject, "The Role of the Lie-Detector in Law Enforcement".

Will Display Lie Detector At Rotary

"The Role of the Lie-Detector in Law Enforcement" will be the principal subject discussed by Trooper Carroll S. Price, Missouri State Highway Patrol, Jefferson City, when he appears before the Sedalia Rotary Club Monday at its regular weekly meeting.

Trooper Price is expected to also demonstrate the lie-detector, which has the technical name of polygraph. This instrument requires a trained technician to operate, and Price has had extensive training in this field. He attended the Army lie-dectector examiner course at Camp Gordon, Ga. He is also a member of the American Academy of Polygraph Examiners.

Trooper Price is a former biology and chemistry instructor in high school, but he became interested in law enforcement and more particularly in crime laboratories, so he joined forces with the Missouri Highway Patrol. He was graduated in 1950 from the University of Missouri. His father, Claude Price, resides at 1314 South Park.

Bill Hopkins, former special agent of the FBI, who now resides in Sedalia, is the program chairman this month for Rotary and will introduce the speaker.

Needle Man

ISHPEMING, Mich. (AP) — Jabs from a hypodermic needle don't bring the usual yelp of pain if John Hill has put his fine hand to work on the needle first.

Hill, a polio victim, makes a living from his wheelchair by sharpening used hypodermic needles so they'll be better than new.

How much better? "Enough to add up to 30 per cent less operator effort, 60 per cent less pain and 100 per cent less plugging," says Hill.

He gets used needles from hospitals and doctors and puts them through a painstaking resharpening process. When he's done the needle can be poked into a pad of shoe leather without a jar — or into a human without a squeak.

New Gray Lady Class Prepared For May 24-25

A meeting of Gray Ladies from Johnson and Pettis Counties was held Friday morning at the Service Club, Whiteman Air Force Base. E. A. Goodwin, field director, called the meeting in order to discuss the program with both chapters. Applications are still being taken for the new Gray Lady class which will be held at the Service Club, May 24-25. These applications must be returned to the Red Cross office before the class starts.

The second disaster meeting, with representatives from seven surrounding counties, will be held Monday, 7 p.m., at the Fifth Street Methodist Church, with dinner to be served by members of the Canteen. Each chapter is to bring their disaster plan, and mutual aid in time of a natural disaster will be discussed. J. E. Norlin will be in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. James M. Blue and Mrs. L. O. Griffith, Jr., members of Motor Service, distributed swimming cards in the city schools this week and classes will start June 19 at Liberty Park Pool. Enrollment closes June 14 and cards must be returned to the office by that time.

Regional Library Notes—

Suggest Library Materials For Vacation Bible Schools

Vacation Bible School is just around the corner and Boonslick Regional Library would like to suggest the use of various library materials in this year's program. First of all there are Bible stories for primary, intermediate and older boys and girls. Stories to read and tell may inform children about life in other lands or in other times in history. They may be character building stories or they may be simply for enjoyment. Simple plays or stunts sometimes appeal to the older boys and girls. Phonograph records of stories and music may be used. Rhythm records may be used for singing and action games.

Handicraft ideas may well be the greatest library contribution to Vacation Bible Schools in the Boonslick Regional Library area. Simple paper craft and paper box toys, spool furniture, finger painting, stick or potato printing, clay modeling and pipe cleaner craft are easily and inexpensively done by children. Corn husk dolls or corn husk mats, and ideas for the use of paper plates are within the reach of almost any group. Making hats of paper plates will amuse almost any little girl for an entire afternoon while the boys will enjoy making false faces of paper bags or wrapping paper. These are only a few of the many available ideas.

Film strips on nature subjects or other lands may be used, especially as rainy day or relaxing programs interspersed with more active participation. The film strip projector is easy to operate, and may be borrowed from either Boonville or Sedalia headquarters on a first come, first served basis. Since these are daylight projectors, it is not necessary to show the filmstrips in a hot, dark room.

The Boonslick Library has a limited supply of songs and action games suitable for Bible School use. Teachers and other workers with these groups are cordially invited to come to the library or meet the bookmobile to borrow the materials they need.

This week's bookmobile schedule:

Tuesday, May 22: Brown, 9:00-9:30; LaMonte downtown, 1:00-3:30.

Friday, May 25: Paul Birdsong, 1:15-1:45; Mrs. J. A. Pulley, 2:00-2:45; C. M. Fergusons, 3:00-3:30.

Monday, May 28: Striped College, 8:30-10:00; Mosby, 10:15-10:45; Liberty, 11:00-12:00; Walnut, 1:00-1:30; Prairie Grove, 1:45-2:15; Bunker Hill, 2:30-3:15; Ringen, 3:30-4:00; N. C. Leiter, 4:15-4:30.

Lions Club Has Annual Dinner For Pops, Tots

More than 100 tots with their pops attended the annual Sedalia Lions Club Pops and Tots dinner held in the Pacific Room of the Pacific Cafe Wednesday night.

The menu was hamburgers and more hamburgers with the usual side dish of French fries and slaw, topped off with either soda pop, milk or coffee.

Each boy and girl received a toy from the National Engineering and Manufacturing Co., and from Roy Gerster balloons. Pop corn topped off the evening through Joe Ruddick who also obtained the motion pictures.

The party was entertained for more than a half an hour with Indian dances with "real" Indians from Troop 57 and Explorer Troop 57 of the Boy Scouts with Fred Fisher in charge.

Three color films of Mickey Mouse, Walt Disney productions were shown by Paul Hausam.

Abe Silverman and Harry Goldberg acted as chairmen of the evening.

Ex-Sedalian Wants Information on Her Family, Relatives

Mrs. Eva Swingley of Savanna, Ill., is anxious to find her own mother or some of her blood relatives. Mrs. Swingley, who is ill, didn't know she was adopted until two or three years ago. She wants to know some of her people.

It was on Aug. 19, 1913, when the little girl, whose name then was Minnie Johnson, was adopted by Rufus W. and Mary Isabel Long in Sedalia. She was three or four years old at that time and her guardian, prior to her adoption, was Mrs. Eula E. Cole. She grew up in Sedalia.

Mrs. H. G. Berger, 618 East Broadway, would like to have any information about Mrs. Swingley's mother or her relatives that she might send it to her. Anyone knowing who or where her mother is may contact Mrs. Swingley direct.

If you wear glasses, the wedding day is not the day to forget them. You can get special frames to go with the costume or perhaps your regular ones will look appropriate. But at any rate, wear them when selecting headdress and coiffure.

Sedalia A's Meet Kansas City Team In Opener Here Today

Will Initiate Sedalia's Return To Semi-Pro Baseball; Pre-Game Ceremonies At 1:45 p.m. At Park

The Sedalia Athletics will send pitcher Joe Imhauser a curve-balling righthander, against the Chestnut Inn Club of Kansas City, Kan., in the opening game of the 1956 season at Liberty Park today at 2 p. m.

Elmer Dillard, star moundsman of the original Sedalia A's of the late 1920's and early 1930's, will start the afternoon of baseball entertainment by serving-up the season's first pitch to his old teammate, "Potts" Evans, slugging first baseman of the same era.

Pre-game ceremonies will start promptly at 1:45 p.m. Introduction of teams from the Babe Ruth and Little Leagues and the local Ban Johnson club will start the activities. Then Jimmy Glenn, well known Sedalia sports announcer, will introduce the 1956 Athletics. The color guard of American Legion Post will conduct flag raising ceremonies.

In Imhauser, manager "Buddy" Thomas picked a long-time favorite of local baseball fans to take the hill. This will make nine years as a hurler in local diamond activity for Joe, and he hasn't had a bad year yet.

In fact, he is author of numerous no-hitters in Junior Legion competition and many other pitching gems in Ban Johnson and semi-pro competition.

Don Broaddus will lead off for the A's and play first. "Bones" Morgan will follow and play second. Shortstop Ralph Fall will hit in the third slot, leftfielder Bill Dey is slated to bat in the clean-up spot, and centerfielder Ed Russell will bat fifth. Player-manager "Buddy" Thomas will get into the line-up as the starting third baseman, hitting sixth.

Larry Vilmer will be stationed in rightfield and bat seventh, "Salty" Schumaker, catching, will swing in the eighth slot and Imhauser will round-out the batting order as ninth man.

The visiting Kansas City team, Chestnut Inn, has been organized for several seasons. Playing in Kansas City, Kan., Jayhawk League, the club has enjoyed several fine seasons.

Player-manager Jim Jones will be the first sacker for the KC aggregation. Jim Fuller, slick fielding second-sacker, is rated the hot-shot of the visiting club. He played in the Cardinal chain and had advanced to class "B" when a leg operation halted his budding career.

Chuck Loomis, Warrensburg College athlete, will play short and either Ron Comer or Gene Taber will get the starting third base assignment. LeRoy Fuller, Carl Balando and Jim Flaherty will roam the outfield for the Chestnut Inn Club. All are veterans of Kansas City Ban Johnson competition and Flaherty, ex-Milgram flyhawk, was the loop's batting champion for three successive seasons.

Jack Reichmeier will receive the pitches served by one of three unnamed starting hurlers. The Kansas Citians have Jerry Relliham, Bill Foster and Gene Fainter all available for mound duty—and all are classed as fine chuckers in the Jayhawk League.

The Liberty Park diamond is in good shape for the opener and the grandstand has been cleaned for the contest.

BJ Game With Jefferson City Is Postponed

The Sedalia Ban Johnson game with Jefferson City has been postponed due to Jefferson City being unable to muster enough players for the game. School activities are such the B.J. team was unable to be assured of players.

The Sedalians first game is scheduled for Tuesday night at Boonville with the Cadillacs. This may be a hard one for the locals due to the fact Coach Russell Gilmore may have to go to St. Louis with the Tigers who are playing in the state tournament.

In case of Gilmore being unable to make the trip Walter Jesse will take over the pilot's job for that game and possibly the game on Friday night at Brookfield. If the Tigers should win their first game they will have to return to St. Louis for a second game and that would fall on Friday.

Sedalia's team will also be short some players, but there are enough coming in from Warrensburg CMSC to fill any gaps and take over. Several of Gilmore's high school players are scheduled for B.J. play after the school season.

Manager Gilmore has called for a practice session for the B.J.'s on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock or as soon as the Sedalia Athletics complete their afternoon game with the Chestnut Inn from Kansas City, Kan.

Gilmore at the present time has included on his roster the following players: Bobby Case, shortstop; Kenneth Buhlig, pitcher; John Higgins, second base; James Fall, left field; Larry Mines, catcher; Elroy Burton, outfielder and pitcher; Ben Neal, outfielder; James Harvey, third base; Raymond Smith, third base; Stanley Hickman, second base; Sammy Holloway, third base; Kenny Hayob, pitcher; Charles Files, pitcher and outfielder.

His high school players who are trying for the team and listed are: Clyde Kubli, pitcher; Don Barbour, first baseman; Charles Newman, catcher and outfielder; Charles "Van" Van Dyne, first base; Gary Wickliffe, pitcher; Marshall Bryan, shortstop and outfielder; and James Swafford, second base.

On Golf

By FRANKIE REYNOLDS

The Missouri Sand Greens Association provides each year a schedule of sand greens golf tournaments held by its member golf clubs throughout the state. And for the tournament-minded amateur these events prove excellent occasions for a swinger to put his golfing prowess to test.

The interesting aspect of these MSGA-sanctioned tourneys is that an amateur of any class, whether novice or par-shooter, has an opportunity to win.

A system of providing competition for all is used in the sand greens events. In each of the tournaments the entrant plays a qualification round, with his score to be used in placing him in a class to compete against other golfers of the same rank. The tourneys are set up in five or more classes—championship, A, B, C, D, etc. Trophies and merchandise prizes are awarded in each division.

The first of these tournaments will be held Sunday, May 27, at Boonville, with the qualification round to be played on Saturday.

Sedalia's Countryview public course, a new member of the MSGA this year, will hold its tourney July 28-29.

—o—

Sedalia Country Club's women golfers will host four other clubs from this area in a field day of golf Tuesday.

The local club's first all-women tournament of the season will pit Sedalia's lady swingers against teams from Warsaw, Clinton, Warrensburg and the Sedalia Countryview public links.

The day of activity will include nine holes of golf in the morning followed by a luncheon at noon.

—o—

A scotch foursome tournament will be held at the Country Club today when the men and the women golfers combine their golf games in competitive play.

Such a tournament matches a man and woman golfing team against a like team to compose a foursome.

Method of play of the foursome calls for alternation of golf shots by the man and woman of each team, the tournament winners to be determined by the lowest total score of a duo for nine holes.

Tigers Play Senatha In State Tourney

COLUMBIA, May 20—(AP)—T. L. Noel, executive secretary of the Missouri State High School Activities Assn., announced today the first round of the association's state baseball championships at St. Louis next week has been advanced from Thursday to Wednesday. The tournament will continue on Friday and Saturday. Noel said that conflicts with commencement activities at Rolla, Cape Girardeau and Sedalia made the change necessary.

The Wednesday first round games will be played simultaneously on adjacent diamonds at Forest Park, beginning at 3:30 p. m., CDT.

The first round pairings.

St. Louis St. Mary's vs. Rolla.

West Plains—Doniphan winner vs. Cape Girardeau Central.

Senath vs. Sedalia Smith-Cotton.

Kansas City Pembroke—County Day vs. St. Louis Beaumont.

The West Plains—Doniphan game is scheduled for tonight.

Semi-finals and finals of the state tournament will be played at Cherokee Park. The semi-finals are scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. Friday and the championship game at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

Smith-Cotton High School Tigers and Senatha will play one of the early morning games Thursday. The schedule was so arranged as to let the Tigers play early so they would have plenty time to return to Sedalia for graduation Thursday night.

Coach Russell Gilmore indicated the Tigers would probably leave early Wednesday for St. Louis so the team could practice on the ball diamond there in the afternoon. They'll remain over night for the early morning tilt.

If they defeat Senatha the team will return to St. Louis early Friday.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

JERRY Lumpe has developed a huge following in this area since cracking the big leagues. Numerous fans had stated their intentions of traveling to Kansas City today to see Jerry make his home-state debut as starting shortstop for the New York Yankees who invade Kansas City for a two-day stand.

However, the Yankee management spoiled the possibility by sending this fine Warsaw athlete back to the minors for a bit more seasoning. Jerry, now toiling for Richmond, Va., is making that necessary seasoning period count according to information received here. In fact, his recovery has been so impressive the Boss Man is keeping one eye on him for a possible quick recall.

Possibly Lumpe might have still been with the Yankees as a bench rider, had not Ed Lopat, in a meeting with Casey Stengel, Yankee manager, George Weiss and Lee MacPhail, made a plea for help for the Yankee farm.

"Give me Lumpe and Outfielder Lou Skizas and I guarantee to send back a couple of highly improved players," Lopat told them.

He had already proven a point by helping Frankie Leja, a Yankee bonus player, and at that Casey acceeded to the request and Jerry and Skizas started the trip south.

In the Sporting News, Dan Daniel wrote from New York, "I was not disappointed in Lumpe, who still rates with the outstanding young infielders of the game," Stengel explained. "I have sent him to Richmond with instructions to speed up his play, to get the ball away faster, to learn to hit over short and third from his lefthanded stance. Lumpe is a good line hitter. He covers a lot of ground. He learns fast, is ambitious and is young. He will be back." Stengel concluded.

Jerry experienced considerable difficulty in the field during his short tour as the Yankees' starting shortstop. In fact, he was averaging almost an error per game.

The baffeling fact behind the story is that nearly all the miscues were on throws.

Recalling how the 6 foot-2-inch Lumpe use to rifle the ball across the diamond with cannon-like velocity, it's hard to fanthom.

Here's the theory a baseball wise observer gave: "Lumpe was troubled with a sore arm during spring training and was taking the arm conditioning slow, playing little. Then Gil McDougal was hurt when he slipped on a grease spot in Miami. Jerry had his big chance. Whether or not he was bothered by the arm isn't known, but the record indicates that's quite a possibility."

At any rate, the odds are good that come the end of this current season, Lumpe will be wearing the famous pen-stripe uniform of the New York Yankees—as their regular shortstop.

IT was a small crowd at Liberty Park Thursday afternoon when Smith-Cotton Tigers came through to win a spot in the Missouri State High School Baseball Tournament which will be held in St. Louis this coming week-end. The few in attendance were an enthusiastic bunch and hooped and hollared from start to finish as the local players scored a surprising victory.

The final tally was wonderful but the remark made by some members of the Smith-Cotton faculty prior to the game was improper. It burns me to hear some students were told they would be "flunked" if they skipped sixth hour class to attend the ball game.

It appears that some sporting activities take preference to baseball. Just for the record, baseball is the grand-daddy of America's leading sports—and rated the cleanest.

These same teachers have permitted students to attend other school functions without threatening the grade the student would normally attain if in class—provided proper make-up work was completed. Possibly, some teachers understand other activities better than baseball and are more directly connected to them than baseball. The result: baseball suffers.

Despite the untimely threat by these educators, baseball is an ever growing sport in Missouri high schools. This action hurts on the local level, but it won't curtail the growth of the diamond program. The baseball team, especially Smith-Cotton's hard battling Tiger of 1956, deserves equal support, given in the same spirit, as track, basketball and football teams receive.

It's late in the school year to remind teachers of their mistake over a sporting activity, but I'll be ready to defend baseball next spring if anyone again advocates a ruling which would handicap students desiring to give S-C morl support by attending the games.

And I'll agree that a sporting event shouldn't be used as an alibi to get out of class for the hour. I'd go along with a downgrading system for those willing to capitalize on sport in this manner.

To me it is great that Smith-Cotton again is represented in the state tournament, first in basketball and now baseball. Good luck Tigers!

Kansan Cracks Speed Mark At Clinton

Jay Moore, the chunky speedster of Pittsburg, Kan., broke the track record Wednesday night at the Golden Valley Speedway of Clinton. Driving a bright yellow Doodle Bug, powered by a 1955 Chevy motor, he really set the raceway afire. The new low record is 15.2. Jay received a $10 cash bond, which is the policy of the speedway to give to the driver breaking the track record. Jay captured the trophy dash and the main-go-around.

D. B. Bunch of Miami, Okla., who has been a hard contender here the past season with his Doodle Bug, powered by a Buick Century is having his share of bad luck this season. Running in fourth position of the A feature he spun out on the east curve with second place in the fast heat his only winning of the evening.

Crocket "The Rocket" Thomason, a skilled veteran of race cars of Clinton placed second in the main event and third in the fast heat. The "Rocket" is piloting a new car this season, a white Doodle Bug, powered by a 1955 Chevy motor. A driver to watch Wednesday night.

Jud Larson, the popular race driver of several states and of Temple, Fla., will be on hand Wednesday night to show the drivers the short way home in the main event.

Other top contenders to race for the $500 guaranteed purse are: Jim McMichael, Harold Thompson, of Carthage; Willie Crane, Bud McKee, Springfield; Amy Buettel, Chanute, Kan., plus many other top drivers.

Stock cars, modified, chopped and Doodle Bugs are all racing this season at the Golden Valley Speedway which is providing plenty of excitement and thrills.

The stock cars are all running in the B feature with all the modified and Doddle Bugs in the A feature. Drivers are entered from four states.

Time trials will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a full racing schedule to prevail.

Fabius In Upset Victory

Cops Preakness With 1¾-Length Edge On Needles; No Regrets Is 3rd

BALTIMORE, May 19 (AP)—Fabius, speedy son of the great Citation, upset the applecart for Kentucky Derby winner Needles and captured the 80th running of the Preakness today in a terrific finish that had the customers all but jumping out of the ancient Pimlico stands.

Maryland's most famous horse race again was the throne room for the famous Calumet Farm. It proved the graveyard for the triple crown hopes of the Florida-bred Needles, who two weeks ago put on his characteristic stretch rush to defeat Fabius in the Derby by three-quarters of a length.

This was the fifth Preakness for the Calumet Farm and the first for that noted Kentucky breeding establishment since Poppa Citation led the way home eight years ago.

Fabius, smartly ridden by Willie (Hatrack) Hartack, 1955 champion jockey, took the lead with about a half-mile to go, and stayed on the front end to the finish of the mile and three-sixteenths classic.

Dave Erb, who had ridden Needles to victory in three other $100,000 added races this year and had beaten Fabius each time, couldn't get the D&H Stables pride and joy into the winner's circle this time.

The margin for the winner was a length and three-quarters, while Needles finished a length ahead of W. E. Britt's No Regrets, third horse in the 9-horse field.

The time on a fast track was 1:58 2-5, bettering the time of Citation, who required 2:02 2-5 on a heavy track. Last year Nashua set the track and Preakness record of 1:54 3-5.

Wininger Abreast KC Field

Maintains 2-Stroke Edge On Finsterwald Through 3rd Round Of KC Open Golf

KANSAS CITY, May 19—(AP)—Although his margin was shaved by two strokes, Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City still is the man the field is chasing in the $22,000 Kansas City Open golf tournament.

Wininger was under par for the third straight day with a 70 to make his total 203. That was two strokes better than Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, winner of the St. Louis Open.

In third place, one stroke behind Finsterwald, were Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, and Wally Ulrich, Rochester, Minn., at 206.

Also within catching distance were Ted Kroll, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Stan Leonard, LeChute, Canada at 207. Jackie Burke, the Masters winner; Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa.; Al Balding, Erindale, Canada, and Doug Ford, PGA champion from Mahopac, N. Y., all had 208.

The field was cut to 60 pros and 10 amateurs for the final round tomorrow with the pros getting under the wire at 222 and with 232 qualifying the amateurs.

Still leading the amateurs was Jimmy English of Topeka, Kan., who shot a 73 today for a 212 total.

Today was Wininger's worst round of the tourney on the 6,545-yard Milburn Country Club par 72 course. He opened Thursday with a 64 and Friday had a 69.

Finsterwald, who looked like the man to catch Wininger, finished ahead of the Oklahoman with a 68 to go with his previous rounds of 68 and 69.

Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., the defending champion, was in contention at the halfway mark with 137 but today he balooned to a 77, five over par. That gave him 214 and virtually killed any chance of his repeating.

Mizzou Tigers Clobber Nebraska 27-4 In Big 7

LINCOLN, Neb., May 19—(AP)—Missouri's Tigers, who dropped a 10-7 baseball decision to Nebraska yesterday, came back today to wallop the Huskers 27-4 for an even split of the two-day Big Seven Conference series.

Missouri nicked five Nebraska pitchers for 19 hits and 18 walks and got the additional assistance of six Nebraska errors.

The win gave Missouri a conference record of 8 wins, 3 losses. Nebraska's loop record stands at 6-4.

UCLA On Probation, Fined $95,000 By PCC

VICTORIA, B. C., May 19—(AP)—The University of California at Los Angeles was placed on probation for three years today by the Pacific Coast Conference and "fined" approximately $95,000.

A direct fine of $15,000 was given UCLA for refusing to give the conference commisioner "the opportunity to conduct an investigation of financial aid given to athletes."

The rest of the assessment is the estimated $78,000 or more the university will lose in Rose Bowl receipts during its probationary period.

Jayhawks Cop Big 7 Track Championship

MANHATTAN, Kan., May 19—(AP)—Kansas' magnificent Jayhawks, scoring strongly in all but two events and providing two new meet records, today breezed to their fifth straight Big Seven Conference outdoor track and field championship on a total of 154½ points.

For the second year the Oklahoma Sooners were second, scoring 71 points.

Goalie Bower Gets MVP Award

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Goalie Johnny Bower of the Providence Reds has been selected as the most valuable player in the American Hockey League. He is the first goal tender in the history of the league to attain the honor and a $300 bonus. A native of Prince Albert, Sask., he has been in the league nine years.

Kansas' Nieder Cracks Collegiate Shot-Put Mark In Big 7 Meet

MANHATTAN, Kan., May 19—(AP)—Powerful Bill Nieder of Kansas bettered the collegiate shot-put record with a heave of 60 feet 3¾ inches in the Big Seven Conference track and field championships today. It was the second time this spring that the big Jayhawker has broken 60 feet.

The official collegiate shot record of 59 feet 2¼ inches was set by Parry O'Brien of Southern California in 1953.

Nieder's heave of 60 feet 3 inches in a dual meet last month is up for recognition as the national record.

His throw today will be submitted for official approval.

Nieder's put today wiped out the Big Seven record of 57 feet 11⅜ inches he made in the meet last spring.

Nieder and O'Brien are the only men in history to push the 16-pound iron ball as far as 60 feet. O'Brien's recognized world record is 60 feet 10 inches made in 1954 after he was out of college.

SECTION TWO

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean, 1401 West Broadway

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Overstreet, 1206 South Carr

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Duff, 911 West Broadway

Howard Robinsons, Harold Deans Have Prettiest Yards

In the "Yard of the Month" contest for the month of May sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean, 1401 West Broadway, won first place in the house built before 1950 and Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Robinson, 700 South Carr, won first in the home built after 1950. Both first place winners received $10 awards.

Second place winners were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Overstreet, 1206 South Carr, in the home built before 1950 and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pflughoeft, 821 Arlington, in the homes built after 1950. The second place winners received awards for $5.

Third place winners, who received honorable mention, were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Duff, 911 West Broadway, for homes before 1950 and Mr. and Mrs. B. Y. Edelen, 1711 West Tenth, for homes after 1950.

The judging was done by J. E. Smith, professor of horticulture at the University of Missouri, Columbia, and Norman Miller, horticulture student at the University of Missouri, formerly of Sedalia. The point system was used and the first place winners are not eligible to win first again, however, they are judged for points. The home that has won the greatest number of points throughout will be the winner of the season and announced in August.

The list of entries will be kept and the homes judged each month, however, those who have not entered and desire to do so, may enter before June 10.

Professor Smith stated he was surprised at the number of entries and wanted to congratulate the Chamber of Commerce for promoting such a project. He went on to say that the homes entered were all nice and had good points, and that there were many, many places, as he drove over town, he saw, that should have been entered.

The Robinson home that won first in the homes after 1950, has an unusual setting on a hill. The home itself is beautiful and wall of pink brick, the fences and arbors, the brick flower boxes give the place real charm. It is nicely landscaped and being very new the garden and landscaping are still in the making.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean just did get in the class of houses before 1950 and that was all. It was built in 1949. The home is of red brick with black grill work and has a beautiful yard in front and on the side filled with shrubs and flowers of all kinds, many very new and different. The big trees add to the beauty of the place.

The Pflughoeft home on Arlington is white surrounded with shrubbery and flowers, with the iris especially pretty. At one side is a large white arbor and in the garden is a yellow brick fireplace. At the corner of the lot is a white wagon wheel on which is growing a rose. In the back yard is a flower garden.

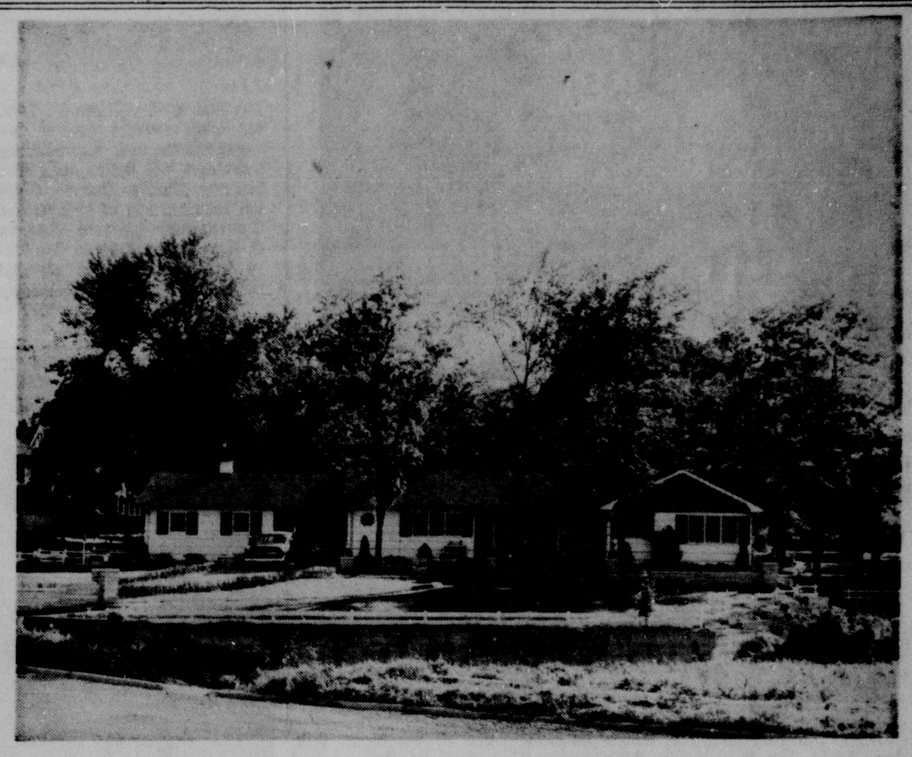

The Overstreet home is green shingled with a darker green trim, a red door, and white grill work on the porch. The planter boxes in front are of red brick and curve at the corners of the house. Along the fence on the north side are large plants of aquilegia and on the south side is a California redwood fence that encloses an inviting back yard. A long rose bed is along the fence and a patio at the back of the house has red brick planters filled with flowers and a green and white canopy provides shade. In the extreme back of the yard is an outdoor fireplace.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Duff have a beautiful lawn and well-kept appearance. There are shrubbery and evergreens in front for nice landscaping and the garden is in the back.

Brick and white siding combine to make the attractive home of the Edelens. In front is a brick flower box which has an effective display of green ferns as a background for a delicate shade of pink geraniums, and their garden, too, is in the back.

Other homes entered which will be eligible for awards the remainder of the season are: Mrs. E. H. Faulwell, 2003 West Broadway; Mrs. Frank Chaney, 1316 New England; Mr. and Mrs. James T. Denny, 502 East Fourth; Mrs. Walter Dobel, 1311 West Fourth; Mrs. L. H. Hodges, 1503 West Third; Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Lawrence, 1600 West 16th; Mrs. F. M. Nicholas, 1120 South Marshall; Mrs. Homer Vance, 714 East Ninth; Fred Wertz Sr., 1715 West 14th; H. O. Foraker, 306 West Third; C. W. Bente, 207 West Third; Mrs. Walter Maness, 300 East Fifth; Mrs. Dorothy Mae Lyles, 905 South Carr; Miss Della Jones, 404 West Fifth; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rupard, 308 West Third; Mr. and Mrs. George L. Arnett, 1806 South Summit; Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Maunders, 1634 West 11th; Mrs. F. W. Koenig, 1015 West Broadway; Mr. and Mrs. John Blue, 1610 West Fourth; Mrs. R. M. Kelley, 1909 Fairview; Mrs. W. H. Eichholz, 1622 West Broadway, Capt. and Mrs. W. L. Foust, 1609 West 13th; Mrs. Guil Flores Jr., 1703 West Fourth and Mr. and Mrs. Tracy York, 2033 West 14th.

In case anybody can't find Fairview Court, which the judges had a hard time doing, the Kelley home is a very different looking new home with an old fashioned look of gray brick with white holders at the windows in which are red flower pots with bright red geraniums. The street runs parallel to 11th street, between New England Drive and Olive and may be found by going west on 11th off of Highway 65, to New England.

Your Wardrobe

by Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

You will be seeing quite a variety of checks in the summer collection of dresses. They are definitely the kind you can endorse for wearing all summer. I think perhaps black and white leads the parade in colors. Brown and white has been very good as well as all the pastels. Most of the heavier ginghams have been shown in the dark combinations while the pastels are shown in the more sheer fabrics. Checks always launder nicely and you can do wonders with accessories. Two-piece styles with some sleeve make grand church dresses. However, what could be smarter than a sleeveless sheath with a dark linen or even white duster. It makes an outfit suitable for many occasions and one easy to care for as well. In the pastel checks in the sheer fabrics you will see full skirts, with low necks either tiny sleeves or no sleeves. Some are lace trim, while others may have a rhinestone here and there. As in all sheers be sure to have the perfect lingerie to wear under it. Wide hems in your sheers are always an asset. The perfect finish is to have matching pastel shoes and purse.

For something "different" to treat that plain painted wall; try the Verde Tree Applique.
It is a tree cut out to be pasted to the wall and the branches arranged to suit the space.
There are different colors in blossoms in pink rhododrendron, yellow and white magnolia or warm biege tones of flowering chestnut. The tree may be used as a recipe tree in the kitchen; as an autograph tree in the teen-agers bedroom; or decoration for hall or living room.

The first motion picture in the new Cinemascope 55 process is America's most-beloved musical, Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel" starting today at the Fox Theatre. The new and improved Cinemascope is highlighted by these factors, (1) Images are radiantly bright and sharp, (2) backgrounds are clearly in focus with four times more photographic detail, (3) Illusion of depth and heightened sense of participation is increased, (4) No distortion—every seat becomes a perfect seat. Filmed in color and in directional stereophonic sound, the musical stars the singing sensations of "Oklahoma," Gordon MacRae and Shirley Jones, with Cameron Mitchell, Gene Lockhart and a huge musicast.

TV Is Not As Lucrative As It Seems

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The TV channels are not as golden as they seem, says Jim Backus, who ought to know.

Monday of this week was Backus Day on the local screens. It started out when he starred on NBC's hour dramatic show, matinee. At 5, he appeared in "I Married Joan," kicking off the NBC reruns that will be on six times a week. In the evening, he was on KTTV with another rerun of the Joan Davis comedy show.

In addition, he was on TV with 30 one-minute commercials as the voice of Mr. Magoo, plugging a beer. And if that wasn't enough—you could also hear him on every channel as the guy who says "It's a Fo-o-ord."

"I know," Backus sighed, "everybody thinks I'm rolling in dough. Why, whenever I go to my agent's office on Rodeo Drive in Beverly Hills, I have to drive in the back way. If I walk down the street in front of the shops, it's like going through a bazaar. They pull me inside and try to sell me the most expensive thing in the joint.

"Sure, I'm making good dough, but it's nothing fabulous. I have one of those stone age contracts. I think Neville Chamberlain musta been my agent on it.

Nor is the pay fabulous from the commercials, he added. "Every once in a while a check comes in," he remarked. "I must say, the people are remarkably honest."

Even without the TV coin (which I suspect supplies a mighty comfortable living), Jim should have no worries. He is developing into one of the screen's most able character actors, both in comedy and serious roles. He made a real impression as James Dean's father in "Rebel Without a Cause" and left this week for Monterey, Calif., to play an army officer in "The Girl He Left Behind."

The U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga is 187 feet from waterline to the top of its mast.

Kim Novak, "The new blonde bombshell" is apparently listening to Fred MacMurray but she is really admiring herself in the wall mirror as she turns MacMurray into a "pushover" for trouble. This suspense drama, also starring Phil Carey, starts Tuesday for 3 days at the 50 Drive-In Theatre.

No More Red Faces

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Workers at a hardware making plant can take a drink of beer after work again without turning a cherry red — thanks to State Health Department experts.

The department was called in after eight workmen complained that if they drank alcoholic beverages after work their faces and arms would turn red, they were troubled with rapid heart beat, nausea and general discomfort.

It was found the workers were breathing fumes from a solvent known as trichloreythlene, used to clean hardware fixtures, and a compound called pyradiene, used to prevent rusting. A toxic reaction to the compounds was triggered by drinking alcoholic beverages.

Industrial specialists solved the problem by isolating and ventilating the area where the cleaning solvents were used.

Amateurs bought 150 million rolls of wallpaper in the United States in 1953.

Following his recent hits in "Mr. Roberts" and "Love Me or Leave Me," James Gagney now stars in MGM's big Outdoor drama, "Tribute to A Bad Man," in which he has another dynamic role as a horse breeder of the early West, whose sense of justice is forged in a land where only the strong survived. The picture in CinemaScope and Color was filmed 10,000 feet high in the Colorado Rockies with some 500 horses playing a prominent part in the picture. The movie introduces beautiful Greek star Irene Pappas as the leading female, and opens today at the Uptown Theatre.

Mrs. Eisenhower Helps Celebrate Savings Bond Birthday

Among those who helped celebrate the 15th anniversary of the Series E Savings Bond on May 1 were Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and nine-year-old Marilyn Miller, Washington school youngster. They are shown here in the White House just after the First Lady sliced into the four-foot, 300-pound cake made in the likeness of a $100 E bond. Mrs. Eisenhower is honorary chairman of the National Women's Advisory Committee for Savings Bonds. Marilyn was selected for the honor for her outstanding achievements in the School Savings Stamp Plan. The huge cake, decorated in four colors, was baked and donated by Clement's Pastry Shop of Washington as a contribution to the Savings Bond Program. Sales have exceeded $80 billion since E bonds were first offered on May 1, 1941, and today over 40 million people own more than $40 billion in E and H bonds.

Paine Was Pain

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Thomas Paine, the Revolutionary War era philosopher was born a Pain, but changed his name. says Col. Richard Gimbel, who owns one of the largest collections of Paine's works.

Gimbel, retired chairman of the art science department at Yale University, says one of the famous writer's first articles, describing a new method of making saltpeter, was signed "Thomas Pain." By the time he wrote his celebrated pamphlet, "Common Sense," however, he had added an "e" to his name.

B-47 STRATOJET—Backbone of the medium bomber forces of SAC, the swept-wing Stratojet is flown by a three-man crew. .The wingspan is 116 feet and the length, measured from nose to tail, is 106 feet, 8 inches. Powered by six General Electric Turbojet engines, the B-47 is in the "600 mph class". A stratojet recently hopped 2,925 miles across the Atlantic from Limestone AFB, Me., to Fairford, England, in the record-breaking time of 4 hours and 14 minutes.

B-50 SUPERFORTRESS—A new and improved version of the famous B-29 Superfortress used extensively in the Pacific during World War II, the B-50 is powered by four Pratt and Whitney piston engines, giving it speeds over 400 mph. Carrying a crew of 11 men, the B-50 Superfortress, with the aid of air-to-air refueling, flew around the world non-stop.

KC-97 STRATOFREIGHTER—Extending the effective combat range of SAC's medium bombers and Strategic fighters is the mission of the KC-97 areial refueling tanker. .Air-to-Air refueling operations are conducted by the use of the "Flying Boom", a long metal telescoping tube which extends from the underside of the tanker's belly. .The civilian version of the KC-97 is known as the Stratocruiser and is used by some of the leading commercial airlines in the United States.

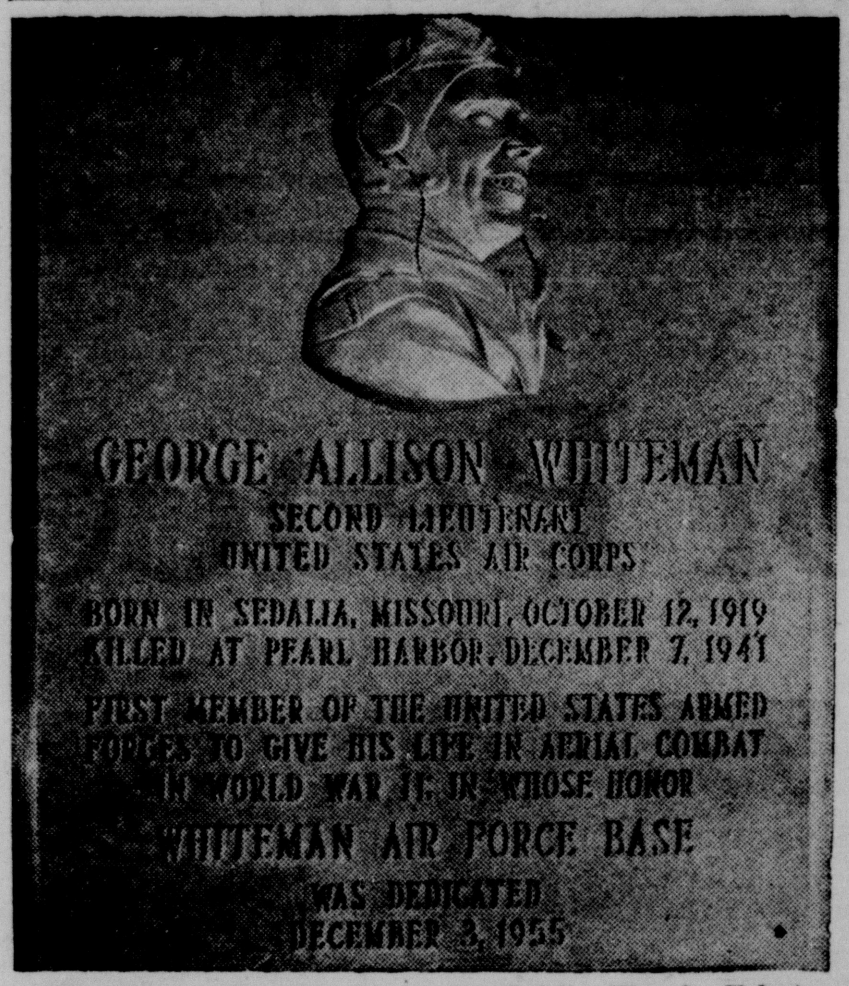

B-36 HEAVY BOMBER—With its range of 10,000 miles, the B-36 can fly to enemy targets anywhere in the world, drop a bomb load and return tc a friendly base. Six big piston engines located on the back side of the wings and four turbojet engines hanging in pairs under each wing tip push the intercontinental bomber along at speeds of more than 435 mph. Gross takeoff weight is 385,000 lbs. Crew consists of 16 men.

B-52 STRATOFORTRESS—The first all-jet heavy bomber, the B-52 is now starting to roll off the production lines of Boeing's Seattle, Wash., plant. Construction of the mammoth bomber also is expected at Boeing's Wichita, Kan., plant. Eight Pratt and Whitney J-57 turbojet engines place the big swept-wing bomber, with a crew of six, in the fighter speed class. Other details are restricted.

C-124 GLOBEMASTER II—The C-124's perform a variety of long-range, heavy-cargo missions all over the world. Capable of speeds over 300 mph, they have a range up to 4,000 miles depending upon the amount of cargo carried. The Globemasters, which are the largest production transports in the Air Force, are also used as troop carriers and hospital evacuation planes.

F-84F THUNDERSTREAK—Newest member of the "SAC family", the Thunderstreak replaces the F-84 Thunderjets as SAC's Strategic fighter. Designed to protect SAC's bombers and bases, the "F" is in the "600 mph class". USAF has announced successful tests using the Thunderstreak and the RB-36 as a team. An RB-36, carrying the fighter to the target in its bomb bay, can release and retract the speed, swept-wing jet while flying several miles above the earth.

Americans Offer Their Thanks On Armed Forces Day

This plaque was presented by the Sedalia Kiwanis Club to Whiteman Air Force Base to commemorate 2nd Lt. George A. Whiteman, for whom the base was named and the first member of the United States Armed Forces to be killed in World War II.

This portrait, the gift of Sedalians, was presented at the dedication ceremony several months ago to the mother of Lt. George A. Whiteman, for whom the base was renamed. The parents are shown at right as Sen. Stuart Symington, left, and Capt. John Herbst hold the portrait. In the background is Col. A. J. Beck, commander of the base's 340th Bombardment Wing.

Armed Forces Day Prayer

ALMIGHTY GOD, on this Armed Forces Day, we give Thee thanks for all those who by their safrices and devotion to duty have made our heritage of freedom secure. Grant that we may prove worthy of our birthright and that in the days to come our land may be a power for peace in accordance with Thy will. Thou dost hold us to account for the use of all our powers and our privileges, thus keep us ever mindful of the responsibities our citizenship requires.

PROTECT and assist all those who at home and abroad, on land and sea, and in the air are serving our country. Shield them from danger; keep them strong and steadfast; give them courage and faith. Uphold their hands that they, with all those who stand ready in reserve, may faithfully perform their duties and at all times remain true to the precepts of their Code of Conduct.

FINALLY we pray that we may become and remain Thy good servants, more completely surrendered in our devotion to Thee and to our counrty, and that Thy peace may return to this world to Thy honor and glory.

Ready for Long Wartime Pull---

In Past Year, Services Have Developed Weapons, Concepts

In the 12 months since last Armed Forces Day, the services have gone ahead developing new weapons and modifying long-standing battle concepts to keep this country prepared for the long pull of either a hot or coldwar.

This was the year the Navy introduced the USS Forrestal, a new type of aircraft carrier—the world's largest. This high-speed mobile airbase could carry 100 planes a distance of up to 1,000 miles in 24 hours. Five more in this class were on the way.

The Navy allocated funds for construction of the first nuclear-powered surface ship—a missile firing cruiser. The service also announced plans for six more atom-powered submarines to join the Nautilus, already on duty.

Meanwhile, the Air Force was rapidly replacing the B-36 with the B-52 heavy bomber, which Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan F. Twining called the best bomber in the world.

The Army, convinced that, in the final analysis, it is the man who takes the ground who holds the key to winning a war, was adding increased mobility to its fighting power.

The service was working out new techniques tactics and organization of its units for the rapid dispersal and concentration of forces Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chief of staff, looked forward to a time when entire divisions could be transported by air around the world at relatively low cost.

The Marine Corps further developed its new techniques of "vertical assault," using planes and helicopters to establish a beachhead. The Corps adopted a new antitank weapon. "The Thing," which was equipped with six 106-mm recoilless rifles.

Guided missiles continued to get top attention from the services.

The Air Force announced it was developing two types of intercontinental ballistic missiles—Atlas and Titan—and one of medium range—Thor.

The service continued to make progress in development of strategic, tactical and air defense missiles. Matador squadrons operate with the U.S. Air Forces in Europe. Supersonic interceptor planes are being armed with air-to-air guided missiles like the Falcon.

Already developed and deployed were the Army's surface-to-surface Corporal and Honest John rockets Nike, first operational surface-to-air guided missile, was on site protecting vital defense areas in the U.S. The Army's new intermediate range guided missile, Redstone, was undergoing extensive tests at Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

The Navy was building a guided missile family including surface-to-surface Regulus, the air-to-air Sparrow, the antiaircraft missile Terrier and an air - to underwater mille.

Talos, a navy-developed guided missile of the surface-to-air variety, was added to the arsenal of the Continental Air Defense Command at land installations and aboard ships.

THERE IS GOOD REASON TO BE GLAD WE HAVE — ARMED FORCES ON THIS DAY IN 1956

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the armed forces of the United States have steadfastly served as champions of the security of our country; and

WHEREAS the members of the armed forces of the United States are now engaged in tasks which demonstrate to the world our free way of life, our desire to maintain peace with the rest of the world, and our aspiration to insure national security through better international understanding; and

WHEREAS, in order to maintain an essential ready reserve of trained military personnel, the armed forces of the United States are placing added emphasis on a reserve-forces program; and

WHEREAS it is appropriate that the armed forces of this Nation dedicate a special day each year to the demonstration of their operations and capabilities; and

WHEREAS it is desirable that the people of the United States and of the world be apprised of our unified program of Power for Peace; and

WHEREAS it is appropriate that the armed forces invite the public to visit on that day, so far as security requirements permit, posts, camps, stations, bases, vessels, armories, reserve centers, and other facilities:

NOW, THEREFORE, I DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America and Commander in Chief of the armed forces of the United States, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 19, 1956, as Armed Forces Day; and I direct the Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, as well as the Secretary of the Treasury on behalf of the Coast Guard, to mark that day with appropriate ceremonies, to arrange for demonstrations and displays at armed forces installations, to invite participation by representatives of all religious faiths in such ceremonies in order that the interdependence of our security and the deep and abiding religious faith of Americans may be recognized, and to work hand in hand with civil authorities in arranging other supporting activities.

I also invite the Governors of the States, Territories, and possessions of the United States to provide for the observance of the day in such appropriate manner as will afford an opportunity for the people of the United States to become better acquainted with their armed forces.

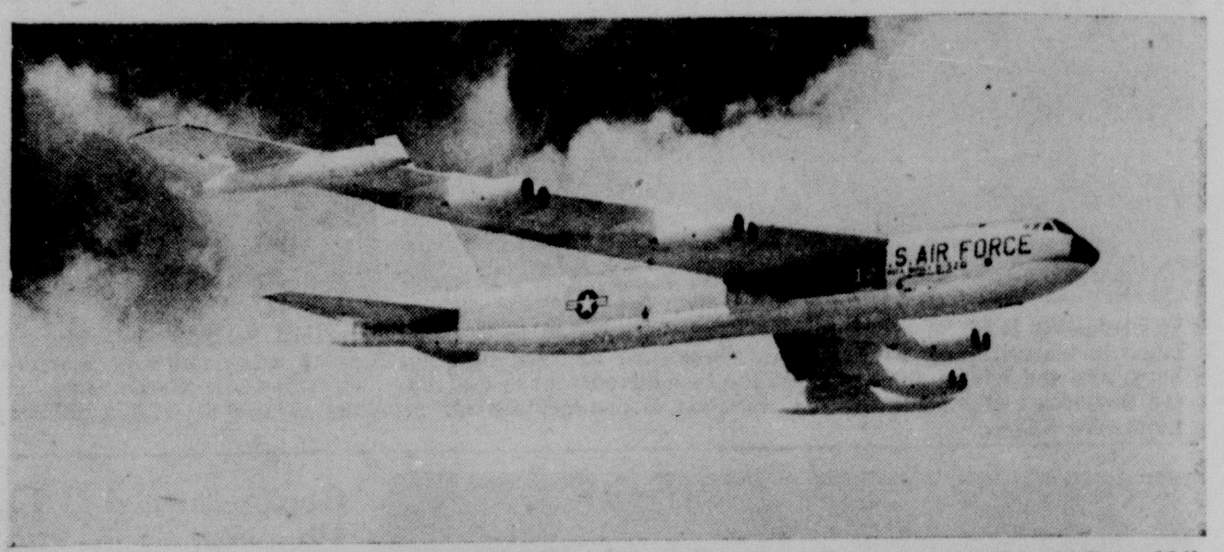

And I call upon my fellow citizens not only to display the flag of the United States on Armed Forces Day, in manifestation of their recognition of the sacrifice and devotion to duty of the members of the armed forces, but also to avail themselves of the opportunity to further their knowledge of our defense posture and of the men and women who constitute our real national strength, by attending and participating in the local observances of the day.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

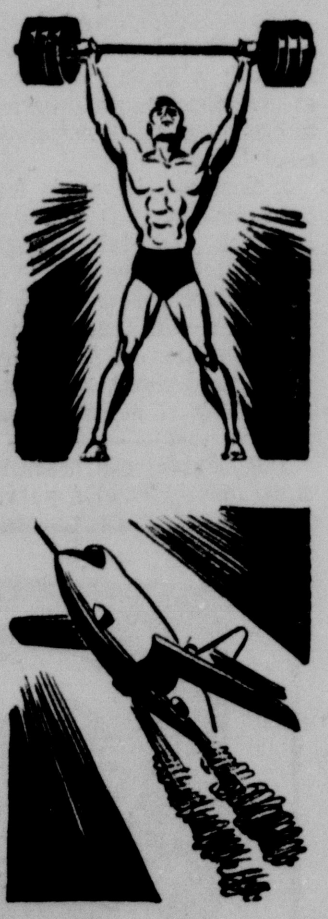

DONE at the City of Washington this sixth day of March in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eightieth.

A B-52D takes to the air. "We had a good flight—the airplane flew just the way we thought it would," said Rod Randall who piloted the first B-52D to be produced at the Wichita, Kan., division of Boeing Airplane Co. on its maiden flight. The 400,000-pound global bomber made its hop May 14 and a five-man crew headed by Randall put the eight-jet aircraft through its paces high above Kansas on a two-hour, 20-minute flight.

Saving now makes a difference to your family's future. There's a difference where you save, too. Saving in an insured Savings and Loan Association means important advantages.

Excellent returns from your money is one advantage. Another is efficient service from men who know how to make your dollars work harder for you.

And, of course, your money is safe because in insured Associations your savings are protected by sound management and substantial reserves. They are insured up to $10,000 by the FSLIC—an agency of the U. S. Government.

These are the reasons why Americans are putting more of their savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations than anywhere else!

Start saving with your local insured Association tomorrow!

Will Put Two AF Engines On Display

Two of the Air Force's busiest aircraft engine's—the jet J-47 and reciprocating R-2800—are on display at the Sedalia AFB "open house" today in conjunction with this year's Armed Forces Day activities.

This engine display, installed in a special trailer van, is free to the public. The engines have been specially modified so spectators may view their complex "inner workings."

Wherever possible, metal parts have been cut away to reveal their interiors. An electric motor runs each engine in slow motion to demonstrate the functions of each part during the engine's operation.

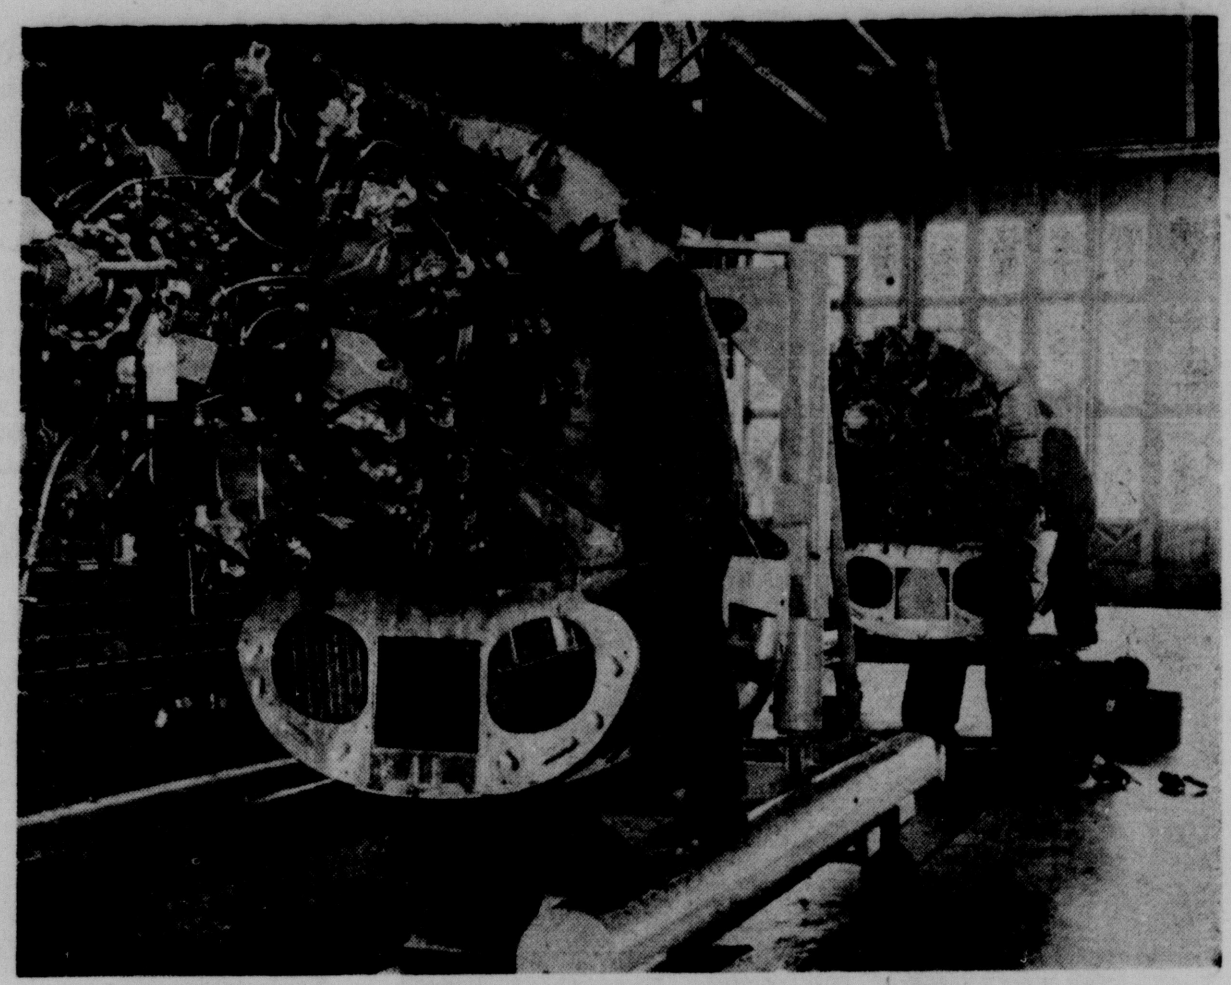

This Air Force exhibit was prepared by technicians of the Orientation Group, USAF of Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

The J-47, made by General Electric, is a turbo-jet axial flow engine developing 5,000 pounds of thrust, each the equivalent of one horsepower at speeds higher than 375 mph. It powers the F-86 Sabrejet fighter and the B-47 strategic bomber. Four J-47s give the giant B-36 intercontinental bomber additional takeoff and climbing power.

The reciprocating R-2800 is built by Pratt & Whitney. It takes 18 cylinders to give its 2400 horsepower at 2800 r.p.m. for maximum takeoff power. It is used in the C-46 and C-82 transports, the B-26 Invader light bomber, the T-29 trainer and some Navy and Marine aircraft.

There are 24 places in the United States which have been named "Dublin," says the National Geographic Society.

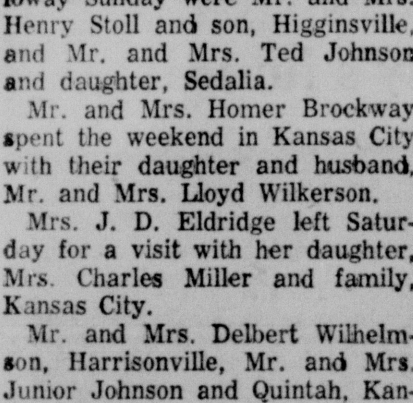

Wages in U.S. manufacturing industries average $1.93 an hour compared with 22.3 cents an hour in 1914.

The household-variety of fix-it man might have a holiday with one of these huge engines, but chances are he wouldn't accomplish much without the intensive training these Whiteman Air Force Base men receive before tackling their highly technical job. The Air Force spends hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to provide that training at Whiteman and its other installations.

Armed Forces Trim Weight By Schedule

The numerical strength of the armed forces continued to decline during the past year as the services got down to fighting strength by removing some excess poundage.

Three of the services, the Army, Air Force and Marine Corps—were programmed for a manpower drop during the year while the Navy was given a slight increase in strength.

A year ago the U.S. had 2,968,810 men under arms. By June 30, 1956, the end of the current fiscal year, there will be 2,814,074 men and women on active duty.

Present Defense Department planning calls for the strength of the services to climb upwards once again during the coming fiscal year. By June 30, 1957, it is anticipated that there will be 2,839,458 personnel in uniform unless there is a critical change in the world situation.

Here is the way the services will look by next June 30:

ARMY — Authorized 1,034,300 men with 19 divisions (three in the Far East and five in Europe 10 regimental combat teams, 137 AAA battalions and six army training centers. By June 30, 1957, it is planned to have an army strength of 1,034,500.

NAVY — Authoized 662,774 men with 994 ships (403 warships) and 12,548 aircraft. Plans call for the Navy to have 663,223 men in uniform by the end of the 1957 fiscal year.

AIR FORCE — Authorized 916-000 men, 131 wings, and 26,429 active aircraft. Nearly 90 per cent of all planes, except transports, are jet equipped. By June 30, 1957, the AF is expected to have 936,000 men, 137 wings and 26,736 aircraft.

MARINE CORPS — Authorized 201,000 men with three divisions (one in the Pacific area) and three air wings (one in Japan) By the end of fiscal 1957, the DOD proposes to increase marine strength to 205,735 men.

COAST GUARD — Under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Treasury, this service has a force of 28,500 men and 342 vessels (38 cutters).

Wichita-Built B-52d Makes Maiden Flight

Boeing Airplane Company's first Wichita-built B-52D Stratofortress made its maiden flight at Wichita, Kan., May 14.

The eight-jet intercontinental bomber, forerunner of an undisclosed number to be built here for the U. S. Air Force Strategic Air Command, took off from the McConnell Air Force Base runway on its pre-delivery test flight at 1:58 p. m. (CST) and returned at 4:18 p. m. after a two hour and 20 minute flight.

At the controls of the 650 miles per hour bomber were Pilot Rod Randall and co-pilot Dick Taylor, both veteran multi-jet pilots. Other members of the Boeing crew were John McCort, bombardier; Phil Beach, navigator; and W. Dean Fagan, gunner

First flight of the 200-ton Stratofortress culminated planning and production efforts of thousands of men and women dating back to Sept. 23, 1953, when Boeing's Wichita Division, builder of more than 1,200 B-47 Stratojet medium bombers, was named second-source for B-52 production. The first of the Wichita-built planes was rolled from the factory last Dec. 7.

Meanwhile, the huge planes continued to roll from the Boeing plant in Seattle on schedule as they have been doing since the first of the production airplanes emerged on March 18, 1954.

The Stratofort, powered by eight Pratt & Whitney J57 turbojet engines each capable of delivering 10,000 pounds of thrust, has a range of more than 6,000 miles and a ceiling of more than 50,000 feet. It has a wing span of 185 feet, length of 156 feet and tail height of 48 feet.
